WITH THE ARTISTS AND WRITERS

ACH SEASON finds the Artists' and Writers' Golf Association, organization of internationally known artists, illustrators and writers, anxious to put aside their pens, pencils and paint brushes and get to Palm Beach for their annual winter get-together and golf tournament. Their reasons for preferring Palm Beach to anywhere else in the world are many and varied, but it is indeed gratifying to have them with us each winter, for they all have traveled a great deal in the course of their literary and artistic efforts, both in this country and abroad. To have them unanimously agree on Palm Beach as their winter playground is proof that this resort offers enjoyment and relaxation not to be found elsewhere.

Humor, with a capital "H" is the keynote of every meeting of the clan and many of their comic ideas are tried out amongst themselves, before they are presented to the public through the medium of the press. While in Palm Beach, each member is on the defensive, lest he be made the target of some practical joke, but all members are well coached in the art of "taking it" as well as "giving it."

Recently in New York a few of the boys were asked what they really thought of Palm Beach and their annual visit there, with the following results:

"Trying to go through a winter without a visit to Palm Beach would be as tough for me as trying to draw a girl without curves. I am strong for Palm Beach as well as curves."

"JOHN LAGATTA"

"The loveliest part of my year, and I always look forward to it, is being in Palm Beach with the Artists and Writers."

"If I am working on a drawing that won't come out the way I want it to, I can always kill my depression by thinking, 'Well, I can forget it all and be happy when I get to Palm Beach.'"

"Literature and art are hard tension games, but I always know that Palm Beach will relax me and my troubles will fade away with its sun, glamour and gaiety."

"If I were sure Heaven would be like Palm Beach, I'd go religious."

"ARTHUR WILLIAM BROWN"

"Palm Beach has become the favorite meeting place for the Artists and Writers for a great many reasons, two of which are climate and charm. There was a complaint from Mr. Billy De Beck when he got lost in the rough one day and his caddie couldn't find him, but that was quickly smothered out. There was another brief complaint from Mr. Goldberg who was paired with John Golden for a partner, as Rube's idea of a partner was some one who could figure in at least one hole."

"However, all these minor matters have nothing to do with Palm Beach attraction, and the fact that the entire gathering has been completely satisfied after many visits, when if you can satisfy at least 10 per cent of this bunch you are pretty close to being perfect, for all of which they are a pretty good collection of human beings."

"GRANTLAND RICE"

"If Palm Beach had been built with the sole and single idea of providing a playground for the Artists and Writers on their annual winter jaunt, no better job could possibly have been done. Palm Beach is just what the doctor (and the bootlegger) ordered."

"FONTAINE FOX"

"Although a regular visitor to Palm Beach, I know it from one angle only."

"By spending my time in my room watching the ships pass by, I can relax and meditate. I may be called a recluse, but it's the sort of life I like best."

"Friends say there are many pretty girls there. I don't know. The only woman I have met is my chambermaid. She is a most deserving mother."

"I go to Palm Beach to rest."

"SPORT WARD"

"Mumsie, Daddy, Fraulein, and I are always on the go. What with the Riviera at the height of the season, Cannes, most any time, Lido in the Autumn, that dear charming Bund in Shanghai, Waikiki for cocktails, Nome when the tiny igloo flower first sprouts above the snow, the Governor's ball at Hamilton, grousing on the Scottish moors, goosing at Newport, or with Byrd at either pole, Oh, I love them all, but Palm Beach in February is just peachy, I'll say, believe me. Possibly it's because I've been lionized by society. The waitresses at the swanky Breakers have made me their pet. It's most embarrassing for me, too. None of the other fellows seem to enjoy this 'joie de vive.' They call all the other Artists and Writers by their last names, but they all call me Ham. And incidentally, do they give me service?"

"HAM FISHER"

"All us electricians and laundrymen is on our tippytoes yellin' 'Goody-goody!' We're off to Palm Beach—our Blue Heaven! They is only one erntment i nour—I mean they's only one fly in our erntment! Woid has come thru from returning dipsomaniacs that the grand old State of Florida is still dry. Geest! That's tough!"

"So we gotta do the best we can about it. We'll get along. Brownie will attend to that! He never lets us down. Epitaph."

"Ham Fisher and me was thinkin' of drivun' down in my laundry car. I wasn't so hot about that idea. Ham on'y has a twenty dollar bill an' we can't never change it. We tried wit' taxis many a time. An' on top o' that, my driver squawked somepin turble. He din wanta deliver laundry on his bicycle wile I was Sout'! Kin y' imagine? Just a pal! Waita minute! They's anodder fly. We was goin' on the unnerstandin' we wast' meet alotta artists an' writers—you know—sposed to be members—like us. But maybe a lil more class. Not but our boys is all right an' don't wear four-in-hands wit' their dress coats—but, Geest! We was got into this club wit' the idea it was litteray an' artistic—was we suckers? Geest! Are we wised! Youse are tellin' me! Is it a racket? An' who's gettin' the run around? As Gene Buck says, th' boardin' house! The Breakers! See y' in the Bath an' Tennis Club. Wherever that is."

"JAMES MONTGOMERY FLAGG"

"Ah, Palm Beach, where thousands bask relaxed in the tropical sun at the stadium daily watching Jim Flagg do his amazing portraits flanked on four sides with cute blond chalk retrievers clad only in smock shorts, and where one can join the cheering hundreds at "Bradley's corner" every noon to witness the unwinding and uncoiling of the three most illustrious snake hipped golfers of the Artist's and Writers, Rube Goldberg, John Golden and Billy DeBeck, and Jeff Machamer impersonating yours truly and sometimes getting away with it except when we are both found the next morning at the same bar, and when things are humming a bit too much, find solitude and rest with Sport Ward who spends his entire time in Palm Beach each year with his blue prints and trying to remember where he left his polo coat and bicycle. I'll be there, but try and find me.

"FLOYD DAVIS"

J. P. McEvoy toiling away on the golf course gives the impression of a Christian martyr burdened down with the sins of the world. His usual flying locks are bound tightly to the scalp with a continuous flow of perspiration. Somewhere between the seventh and eighth holes one leg of his golf trousers has broken loose from its moorings. His sweater forms a mound on his shoulders giving a most realistic Hunchback of Notre Dame effect. But he's going to play the eighteen holes with those Artists and Writers if he dies in the attempt. He almost hopes he will.

To make sure he won't be eligible in the tournament next day, McEvoy takes mighty whacks at the ball that carry it just about forty yards or more. Good, he darn well knows with this score he's ineligible now. But when he gets back to the clubhouse after a morning of exquisite torture he finds his excellent high score insures him a play-off on the morrow in the handicap flight. He hunts up Charlie McAdams to unburden his soul. But Charlie's over in Miami for the races.

DORIS DOE REALIZES DREAM

By LILLIAN HARLOW HOLLEY

AN AMBITION realized . . . a dream come true . . . and a golden-voiced woman, scarcely more than a girl, treads the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House.

Such things happen often in story-books, but in real life only once in a blue moon. And the singer upon whom the blue moon shone is Palm Beach's own contralto, Doris Doe.

When Doris Doe appears in concert next Friday night, February 9, at the Everglades Club by special permission of the Metropolitan Opera Company, with which she is under contract, it will be the first opportunity for her fellow-townsmen and sponsors to hear her in her home town since she made her debut in opera in New York. Little more than a decade ago, newly graduated from the Palm Beach High School, she had turned her back on college and following the overwhelming urge to sing, had chosen the path that has led in a surprisingly direct course to her goal. This week a brilliant audience will greet her appearance here and a warm welcome will be extended the singer who so early in her career has realized the dream of every every American student of voice.

Doris Doe is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Watson Doe of Seminole Avenue, a member of a family nurtured on music. Her grandfather, Henry Rice, was a celebrated oratorio singer and her mother is a musician of ability. Following her graduation from high school the sixteen-year-old girl went to Chicago to become proficient in languages under the tutelage and sponsorship of Dean Small of Chicago University, a member of her mother's family, and to study voice with the famous Sybil Sammis McDermid. Four years later, Miss Doe went to New York, there studying oratorio with Charles A. Baker and interpretation with Frank La Forge, famous coach. She made her debut in concert in Aeolian Hall with Mr. La Forge at the piano. Of this event, W. J. Henderson, music critic of the Sun, wrote, "One of the justly celebrated blue moons must have presided over 43rd Street last night."

For two years Miss Doe held the post of soloist at the Marble Collegiate Church and then was soloist for two years at the Second Church of Christ Scientist, resigning that position to go abroad to study. During these years she had the distinction of singing with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra for three successive seasons, as well as at the Worcester and North Shore Music Festivals. The opportunity to go abroad to study came through an engagement here in the resort. She had come down from New York to sing "The Messiah" at the Arcadia (Fla.) Festival and to appear at a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Castle Bolton at their ocean-front villa, "Il Torre de Suenos." Through their influence and that of Sidney Homer, famous American composer, and his wife, Mme. Louise Homer, leading contralto of the Metropolitan Opera for many seasons, who believed in the possibilities of Miss Doe's voice, and as a result of their kindly sponsorship, the young singer was enabled to go to Europe to study.

Berlin, the great music center, was the field chosen and three years later Miss Doe made her debut as Erda in "Das Rheingold" at the Dresden State Opera House, being engaged to sing the role after an audition. Of her debut the Dresden Anzeiger said, "New and wholly surprising, above all the Erda scene, in which a new talent, Doris Doe, fills the stage with spiritual strains." A tribute indeed to a young American singer from the restrained foreign press. "Why do we have to go to America to get such a voice?" plaintively queried another German critic.

It was in Berlin that Artur Bodanzky, conductor of German operas at the Metropolitan, heard Miss Doe sing. He arranged an audition with Mr. Gatti-Casazza, general director of the Metropolitan Opera Company, then in Italy, which resulted in a five-year contract for Miss Doe, and her debut on February 3, 1932, as Brangaene in "Tristan and Isolde," placed her in the front rank of American contraltos. New York critics were unanimous in their praise of her voice, her acting and her pleasing stage appearance. "Her voice is a good one . . . and she uses it with expressiveness. . . . Her acting had the virtue of sincerity and restraint," said Deems Taylor in the American. "She disclosed a fresh and agreeable voice and an unaffectedly attractive presence," said Lawrence Gilman in the Herald-Tribune. "The quality of voice and just accomplishments of the singer justified her engagement," said Olin Downes, critic of the Times.

Each year Miss Doe sings in the Wagner cycle at the Metropolitan and a few weeks ago she appeared in the revival of Richard Strauss' "Salome," which scored a great triumph at its first presentation since it shocked Metropolitan opera goers out of their seats at its premiere a score of years ago. The singer is now studying for her appearance in Italian roles. Last summer she spent some months in Italy for that purpose and also went to Stockholm to study Swedish, the better to interpret some of the beautiful Swedish songs.

Her program at the Everglades Club concert with Mr. Edwin Mc Arthur at the piano, will include the Erda scene from "Das Rheingold," an aria for contralto from Mancinelli's "Ero e Leandro," Aria di Lia from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue," and songs in Italian, Swedish, German and English, the latter group including a song by Sidney Homer, now a beloved member of the resort winter colony, whose insight and perception have helped many a young singer along the road to the stars.

BETHESDA BAZAARS---THEN AND NOW

By ROSAMOND MORIN

THE TINKLING of cymbals, the colorful bazaars, the gaiety of the midway will characterize the Tombola—that Italian street fair—that will be given on Shrove Tuesday, February 13, by the Women's Guild of Bethesda-by-the-Sea. More picturesque, more colorful than the successful one of last season, are the glowing phrases of Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, chairman of the ladies' committee in charge of the Tombola, speaking of this annual benefit of the Guild.

For the benefit is an annual one—the oldest charity in Palm Beach county and precursor of similar work in this section of Florida. Old residents of the resort can look back across the years to the early days of this affair. Twenty years ago this month, to be exact. A Palm Beach Daily News of Friday, February 27, 1914, tells of the annual Bazaar held the preceding day.

How exciting it was! In those days there were no Cluett Gardens; the bazaar was held on the spacious estate of Mrs. Edwin M. Brelsford, on the South Lake Trail. The booths were situated on the broad verandas and on different parts of the lawn—a lawn, the story tells us, “gay with flags of all the nations.”

Arriving at the bazaar, one was met by the genial gate committee, consisting of Mr. W. D. Freeman and Mr. Harold E. Spencer, elected the preceding year to the Vestry, a position which he still holds. On strolling up the path from the entrance, a gypsy tent came into view and a crowd eagerly waiting to consult the fortune teller and to cross her palm with silver. Inside the tent, Miss Agnes C. Dyer, now visiting Mrs. Emily G. Pendleton, mysteriously arranged a look into the future.

Across from the fortune teller, was the junior table where many “attractive and useful articles of fancy work” were displayed by Miss Dorothy Stone-Smith, who was married in 1920 to Dr. Henry Darlington, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City; Miss Helen B. Hood, Miss Fredericka Brelsford, now Mrs. D. F. Dunkle, and Miss Madeleine Henry.

On the north veranda was the tea table presided over by Mrs. Frederick Sterry, whose late husband was former manager of the Royal Poinciana hotel and later of the Plaza, New York; Mrs. Willis Seaver Paine, now residing at the Plaza and widow of Col. Paine, and Mrs. George Morgan Ward, widow of the beloved minister of the Poinciana Chapel. “This was a very popular booth” the story goes on, “as the afternoon was cool.” The fancy work table, also on the broad veranda, was under the management of Mrs. William Stone-Smith, the present Mrs. Robert Dun Douglass of the Breakers colony, and Mrs. H. C. Hood, who is still an active worker in the Guild. Nearby was the utility table under the direction of Mrs. Delos O. Wickham, an annual visitor to the resort and another member of The Breakers colony, Mrs. W. D. Freeman, now living in Winter Park; Mrs. William G. Havill, a member of the annual resort colony, and Mrs. A. F. Huston, who occupies a cottage on Sunset Avenue.

Lemonade was the popular beverage. The lemonade table was at the foot of the broad stairway and was dispensed by Mrs. William L. Hodgkins of Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Miss Nellie Watts and Miss Bella Press.

Lest we take too much pride in our modern scavenger hunts and treasure hunts, what could have been more unique than a Wishing Tree? The Florida version took the form of an orange tree, with a prize concealed inside each of the golden fruit. According to The Daily News story of twenty years ago, this was a “novel amusement, which attracted all the visitors.” Whether it was the tree or the Witch directing its destinies, who attracted the visitors, the article failed to state, but it was no secret that much of its popularity was due to the charm of Miss Julia Temple, who made a charming witch. Miss Temple is the present Mrs. Lawrence Irving Grinnell of East Eightieth Street, New York City. Assisting her were Miss Mary Snyder of Pittsburgh and Miss Emma Green.

Mrs. Emily G. Pendleton, of Reverie, South Lake Trail, an active worker in the Guild, was chairman of the booth dispensing ice cream and cake, one of the most sought after booths at the bazaar where “many delicious home-made cakes were sold,” the largest one bringing $25 and being bought at auction by Mrs. Jean H. E. Saint Cyr. The committee assisting Mrs. Pendleton was one of the busiest of the day and included Mrs. T. T. Reese, now Mrs. Belle Whitman, Mrs. Walter S. Harban of Washington, Mrs. Charles Powers, now living at Decatur, Ill., Miss Doris Doe, the noted contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who will be heard in recital at the Everglades Club on Friday, February 9, and Miss Mildred Brelsford, the present Mrs. Charles J. Clarke, Jr., of Marion, Pa.

A table, laden with tropical fruits and flowers, was presided over by Mrs. John Watson Doe, still a noted member of the resort colony, Mrs. S. F. Worthington, now of Goshen, N. Y., and Mrs. U. D. Hendrickson, at present a resident of Umatilla, Fla. Little flower girls carrying baskets filled with bright blossoms ran to and fro over the grounds. The little girls, now grown to womanhood, were Miss Katherine Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James King Clarke of Utsee Wewa, and recently married to Mr. Lewis Hayden Bodman, of Philadelphia; Miss Wilhelmina Freeman, now Mrs. Raymond Green of Sebring, Fla., and Miss Frances Haven.

Twenty years ago curves were in fashion; a Mae West figure was the vogue and women had no reason to watch their diet. So that the booth doing a most flourishing business was the one where “delicious home-made candies” were sold under the direction of Miss Lucia Temple, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Temple of Everglades Avenue, sister of Julia, and now living in New York where she is secretary to the Schepp Foundation. Assisting her were Miss Florence Hinkle, now Mrs. Walter Keegan of Philadelphia, and Miss Charlotte Haven.

The committee on decorations for the bazaar was left to masculine direction and was capably handled by Mr. Harold Spencer and Mr. James King Clarke.

The bazaar, according to the report, was a big success and the weather was ideal but the canny ticket committee had offset any difficulties arising from the whim of the fickle weather man. They had sold tickets to the entire resort so the gate receipts were assured in any event! And the committee responsible for that forethought was composed of Mrs. Sterry, Mrs. Havill, Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Wickham. Twenty years ago, that was. And we talk of modern wisdom!

ON SUNNY PALM BEACH SANDS

HOSE FORTUNATE VISITORS to the resort whose stay is not limited to a brief interval have chosen the Poinciana-Breakers Beach for their morning routine of sunning and swimming. As a result this spot is one of the most delightful in the colony during the mid-day hours. Hotel guests and cottagers congregate on the sands daily, giving this colorful stretch of beach a feel of chumminess and goodfellowship found nowhere else in the resort. Gay and picturesque, cabana row is always a scene of much activity during the noon hour when scores of visitors stroll along the boardwalk and stop for a chat with various groups of friends.

Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury of El Mirasol is a frequent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins of Baltimore and The Breakers, who have cabana number 7 for the season. Colonel D. F. Turnbull of Nashville, Tenn., motored up from Miami recently to visit the Hopkins at the beach. Mrs. William R. Brown and Mrs. E. H. Campbell of Baltimore, are noted there often, as are Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Morrow of The Breakers.

A gay group who have adjoining cabanas and visit informally back and forth include Mrs. Charles I. Corby of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy of The Breakers, and the latter's guests, Mrs. Roy Lockhart of St. Louis and Miss Virginia Harold of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler and Mr. and Mrs. William H. McGregor of Detroit are at their cabana daily, next door to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock of St. Louis, who are joined daily by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope, Mr. and Mrs. William Pope, Miss Cornelia Materne and Mrs. Roland Kahle, all members of the winter colony in Palm Beach.

Mrs. E. Gray Pendleton of Reverie on the North Lake Trail frequently visits her cabana and holds impromptu receptions for her many friends at the beach.

The Reverend and Mrs. Austin Pardue of the cottage colony are often with Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison of The Breakers at their cabana.

The sands are dotted with colorful groups who bask in the sunlight or seek the shade beneath striped umbrellas after a swim in the surf. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Boone of The Breakers and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Mallory, form a congenial foursome, and are frequently joined by Mrs. A. Sherman Downs and Mrs. William L. Boone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner of The Breakers are noted frequently with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Rauh and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman of Whitehall.

Miss Helen Morgan, Miss Peggy Kearny, Miss Louis Griffin, Miss Eleanor Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Colvin, Mr. Irving Snyder, Mr. Otto Weber, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cronin, Mr. Leland Sterry and Mr. Murray Forbes are among the younger members who get together daily down on the beach.

Cabanas on the beach have become the vogue at the Sun and Surf Club. Due to insistent demands, two groups have been built; one at the south end of the beach of five cabanas placed L-shape, three facing the sea, two facing north; on the north end are six, all facing south. Painted of various colors, with bright orange roofs they add greatly to the beauty of the beach, and being conducive to entertaining add immensely to the social life and gaiety of the club.

Cabana holders are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Alexander, of El Vedado Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Netcher, of Paris, (Mrs. Netcher was the former Miss Rozsika Dolly; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Throop, also of Paris, (Mrs. Throop was Miss Rubye de Remer of the legitimate stage); Mr. and Mrs. Jerome L. Horton, of New York, and Mrs. Horton's father, Mr. James K. Paisley, of Ottawa, Can.; Mrs. Catherine M. Legget, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., and her mother, Mrs. Sherrod Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hall, of El Bravo Way, Mrs. Cornell Emery, of Larchmont, N. Y., and her mother, Mrs. Marie Weill, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Quinn, of Shrewsbury, N. J., and her mother, Mrs. Leon Samuels; Mr. and Mrs. William White Forrester, her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Randle, and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Randle, of Chicago; Baroness Emma von Eyssenhardt of New York.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

THE AGE OF ELEGANCE . . . of trailing gowns and flashing jewels . . . of tiaras and diamond ornaments sparkling in elaborately arranged coiffures. No, not the Gay Nineties. The present day at Palm Beach. How satisfying it is to go to a smart social function and find all the ladies in their "best" frocks, and to realize that one must be appropriately dressed to be well-dressed. The President's Birthday Ball at the Everglades Club for the benefit of Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, showed more clearly than words the present trend. All the gowns were long, some with important trains, others with merely a little sweep at the back and sides. Materials were ornate and decorative in themselves, white net shot with gold threads, rich embroidery of sequins and silver beads, metal lame, rich black velvet forming a background for precious jewels, which were worn in regal display. Diamonds galore, many pearls, here and there a ruby of magnificence, bracelets from wrist to elbow flashing in rays of light, and tiaras and hair ornaments decorating more than half the coiffures.

* * * *

UNDER THE STARS

WHEN NIGHT settles down over the resort and the golf and tennis tournaments, the bathing and fishing and other outdoor sports of the day are over, the social activities of the resort really begin. Tropic nights offer unlimited opportunities for outdoor dancing and dining and when the winds from the north show their influence the party simply moves indoors and the fun goes on.

The Colony Club has long been noted for its famous Sunday night beefsteak dinners and certain members of the resort colony never miss one. A cheery group in the Cafe de la Paix, enjoying the delicious Colony Club food and listening to the delightful strains of Buddy Wagner's Internationales, is a picture of contentment that appeals to the heart of any lover of the good things of life.

Daily tea-dances have been inaugurated at the Colony Club, modelled after those at the Cocoanut Grove of the Royal Poinciana, which for several decades were a feature mentioned all over the world wherever smart people of the international set gathered. The Colony Club Trio adds to the enjoyment of the dinner dances and also at tea.

Among the gay parties given recently at the Colony Club was the supper-party at which Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer of Seaside Cottage entertained for Grand Duke Dmitri and Princess Ilyinsky, Mr. and Mrs. Drayton Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Atwell, Jr., Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mrs. Allen A. Ryan, Jr., the Duchess of Sutherland, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mr. N. Mazucchi, Lady Daphne Finch-Hatton, Mr. and Mrs.

Maurice Fatio, Col. Anthony J. Drexel, Miss Audrey Phipps, Miss Mary Munn, Miss Frances Drexel Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin, Mr. Peter Harvey, Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochefort, Viscount Adare, Major Pryce Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, Mr. Milton Holden, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Noel Munn, Mr. John P. Wemple and Major Joseph F. Cottrell.

All the charm of the intimate surroundings of a private home together with the zest and joie du vivre of a continental resort mingle to make The Patio at Sunset Avenue and County Road one of the most interesting places in the resort. The younger set also has discovered the charm of The Patio and nightly are seen at the tables about the dance floor or in the interesting Trophy Room, listening to the amusing songs of Deslys and Clark, applauding Pepi and his big fiddle and dancing to the music of Mort Dennis and his orchestra.

Mr. George Rasmussen and his brother, Mr. Robert Rasmussen, who are at the Everglades Club, entertained a group of young people at a supper party; Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., entertained for Miss Beatrice C. Wagstaff, who is a house guest at the Barbey home on the north ocean front. Miss Mary L. Lansing entertained seven guests.

Others entertaining at The Patio during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller Gould, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mason, Mr. Peter Crossman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stephens, Mrs. William W. Forrester, Mrs. Edith Cheeks, Commander Claude Grahame White and many more.

RESORT ACTIVITIES that reached a new peak with the brilliant President Roosevelt Ball at the Miami Biltmore Country Club continue to crowd a kaleidoscopic calendar for the fashionable winter colony. Arrival of February, always regarded as the most colorful of the resort months, is being heralded by a week of events that run the gamut from golf to moonlight concerts. Many of the country's most famous feminine stars are here for the third annual Miami Biltmore Women's Amateur Invitation Championship, which opens February 5 to continue through February 9. A round of festivities in honor of the visiting players at the Florida Year Round Clubs will give the tournament unusually interesting social aspects. Among those who will compete for the Grace Doherty Challenge Cup, now held by Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, are Miss Helen Hicks, of Hewlitt, L. I., holder of the national championship in 1931; Miss Maureen Orcutt, of White Beeches, N. J., four times metropolitan champion; Mrs. Tom Wallace, Sapulpa, Okla.; Mrs. John Arends, of Detroit, Mich.; Miss Bea Gottlieb, of New York; Miss Ariel Vilas, of Chicago; Mrs. Art Millea, of Mount Kisco, and Mrs. J. J. Kannon, of Boston.

One of the important social events of the Florida season, the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund Ball at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, February 22, already is concentrating the attention of society leaders of metropolitan Miami. More than fifty nominations have been made for the meritorious charitable service award which will be a feature of the ball. In the absence of Miss Doherty, who is now at the American embassy in Copenhagen, Mrs. Henry L. Doherty will make the award.

With two junior events on the Florida Year Round Clubs calendar, the juvenile resort colony has had its exciting moments during the week. The first of the events was the annual Roney Plaza Kids Sailing Regatta in the pool of the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club last Saturday. Many amateur young yachtsman competed with craft, in a number of instances made by themselves, for trophies and prizes awarded those manning prize-winning boats. Next Saturday aspirants for championship honors of the future, will compete in the second annual Florida State Kiddies Golf Championship in which a number of trophies will be awarded winners.

In addition to the more formal events, a variety of the less formal affairs always dear to the heart of the winter colony have thickly dotted the current week's calendar. The Sunday afternoon tea-dance at the Roney Plaza hotel was one of the informal highlights of the week-end, with a smart gathering of the winter colony dancing to the music of Paul Sabin and his orchestra.

The colorful aquatic carnival in the Miami Biltmore pool was preceded by many luncheons given on the terrace by members of the Florida Year Round Clubs. Among those having guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Preim, of Summit, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hughes, of Coral Gables and Chicago; Mrs. H. S. Tuthill, Rye, N. Y.; Mrs. H. H. Forrest, of Rye; Mrs. Tuthill Warren, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Dr. and Mrs. William T. O'Hallaran, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Lowry, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Tuteur, of Cleveland.

Reopening of the popular rendezvous, the Nineteenth Hole in the Miami Biltmore Country Club last Thursday was the occasion of a house warming that gathered a smart representation of the winter colony. Decorated with sixty-six different Florida woods, said to be the most complete collection of native tree specimens ever assembled, the taproom is one of the most interesting spots in the resort.

Use of the Florida woods in the decorative plan, which is modified Italian Renaissance, was planned by Col. Henry L. Doherty, president of the Florida Year Round Clubs, to demonstrate the beauty and adaptability of native tree specimens. Three months were necessary to secure the panels, a horticultural expert visiting every county in the state to study varieties of trees and to secure the most perfect specimens of the various woods. Many of the panels are worthy of a museum, according to Robert M. Little, architect of the room. Among the most striking is one of Osage orange with a distinct yellow glow. Another interesting panel is of selected mahogany, which affords a striking black and white contrast. Still other panels are of rare woods of Lignum Vitae, crabwood and dogwood.

The Key Largo Anglers' Club claimed its share of attention from the resort colony during the week, many prominent members taking guests to the club for luncheon and fishing. Among those entertaining at the club were: Commodore and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, of Newport

TENNIS BECOMES THE VOGUE

URING the past week, tennis has been very much in vogue at the Poinciana courts. Many interesting games have been played by members of the resort colony both in round-robin matches and by individual groups. Mr. Townsend Bradley Martin, nephew of the Hon. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, is often seen on the courts. According to resort experts who should know, his style resembles that of Maurice E. McLaughlin, the famous California comet. They state that if he continues with his present whirl-wind game it will not be long before he will be well on his way to a try out for the Davis Cup team. Mr. Martin, who is an all-round sportsman, is also seen frequently at the Phipps Polo fields playing a top-notch game of polo, or making a round of the Poinciana golf course in pursuit of the well known par.

Many other members of the resort colony, notably of the younger set, have been playing some excellent tennis. Miss Gloria Baker, daughter of Mrs. Charles Minot Amory and Miss Katherine Wait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Wait, have been observed on the court in doubles matches with Mr. George Agutter, noted professional in charge of the courts, and with Mr. Wait.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard and their two charming daughters from Forest Hills, L. I., play most every day. Mr. William Demuth, who is making his seasonal stay at Whitehall and who has won several round-robin tournaments, puts in a lot of time on the courts as well as Mr. W. R. Hahn of the Breakers.

Others who have been noted playing on the courts or taking lessons from George Agutter and his assistant Rudy Noble, include Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lutkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gensler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Carey, Mrs. H. B. Scott, Miss Audrey Phipps, Miss Sonia Phipps, Mrs. Edith Cheeks, Mrs. Schley, Mr. J. B. Dickey, Mr. Elliott Sperber, Mr. Robert Adler and Mr. H. Adler, Mr. Enzo Fiermonte and many others.

Before the season's largest gallery of prominent resort folk the team of Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt, of Lantana, and Mr. Daniel Kenny, noted resort professional, defeated the team of Miss Harriet Barnard and Mr. Hans Nusslein 6-4, in an extra set match to play off a tie and won the mixed doubles round-robin matches on the Poinciana courts recently after both teams had won 26 games and lost 10 in the afternoon's play.

In the all-amateur men's round-robin matches played on the north courts of the Palm Beach Tennis club at the same time, the team of Jeffery Roche, son of the noted author, Arthur Somers Roche, and Richard Harris, well known local player, won out over six other teams winning twenty-nine games and losing thirteen.

The extra set match of the mixed doubles was well played with Mrs. Harold Vanderbilt playing a most steady game and Mr. Daniel Kenny using deadly cross-cut shots to advantage. Miss Barnard made a fitting team mate for Mr. Hans Nusslein, professional champion of the world, but they could not stem the final rally of the Vanderbilt-Kenny team.

The men's round-robin match was closely fought all the way, through. The team of Alfred G. Kay and W. R. Hahn finished only one game under the winning pair of Roche and Harris and the team of Dr. Bernie Clay and Townsend B. Martin was only one under the score of Kay and Hahn..

Summary of the mixed doubles round-robin matches were as follows:

Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt and Mr. Daniel Kenny won twenty-six games and lost ten; Miss Harriet Barnard and Mr. Hans Nusslein, won twenty-six games and lost ten, lost extra match to first team 4-6; Mrs. Robert H. Hassler and Mr. Paul Heston, won twenty-two games and lost fourteen; Mrs. J. F. Carlisle and Mr. Rudy Noble, won twenty-one games lost fourteen; Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw and Mr. John Cardegna, won twenty and lost sixteen; Miss Dorothy Richards and Mr. Robert Murray won seventeen, lost nineteen; Mrs. Alfred G. Kay and Mr. Arthur Rudolph, won fifteen and lost twenty-one; Mrs. Frances Meurer and Mr. George Agutter, won fifteen and lost twenty-one; Miss Mary Kenny and Mr. James Kenny, won ten, lost twenty-six; Mrs. H. Barnard and Mr. Allan Wylie, won eight, lost twenty-eight.

Summary of men's all-amateur round-robin matches: Messrs. Jeffery Roche and Richard Harris, won twenty-nine games and lost thirteen; Alfred G. Kay and W. R. Hahn, won twenty-eight games and lost fourteen; Dr. Bernie Clay and Townsend B. Martin, won twenty-seven games and lost fifteen; Jack Ohlaver and Harry Kenny, won twenty-one and lost twenty-one; William Demuth and L. A. Wait, won sixteen and lost twenty-six; R. Frost and H. Siegbert, won fifteen and lost twenty-seven; Hubert Phipps and G. Bennett, won eleven and lost thirty-one.

Feminine members of the resort younger set are also taking tennis seriously this season and recently held a most successful invitational round-robin tennis match on the Poinciana courts.

Miss Sonia Phipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, well known resort resident, won the event, taking twenty-three games and losing only seven. She played in excellent form and her service was the best she has ever attained during her several years of playing tennis.

Miss Katherine Wait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wait, came out second, winning twenty-one games and losing nine. For prizes Miss Sonia Phipps received a George Agutter racquet, given by the dean of resort professionals, and Miss Wait received a dozen tennis balls. Refreshments were provided by Mr. L. A. Wait, well known tennis enthusiast who acted as sort of impromptu master of ceremonies.

Miss Phipps played Miss Katherine Wait, 3-3; Miss Gloria Baker, 3-3; defeated Miss Anita Kay, 6-0; Miss Grace Kirby, 6-0, and Miss Audrey Kay, 5-1.

Miss Gloria Baker placed third, winning seventeen games and losing thirteen; Miss Anita Kay won fourteen and lost sixteen; Miss Grace Kirby won nine and lost twenty-one, and Miss Audrey Kay won six and lost twenty-four.

Be Fit for Fun!

It is so essential that you be lovely every minute of the time you are away. In order for you to know just what you should have, Elizabeth Arden has assembled the preparations that are indispensable to a successful holiday.

Ardena Sunpruf Cream

Elizabeth Arden introduced this preparation last season and it was an immediate success because it worked! Sunpruf Cream absolutely prevents sunburn. Applied lightly it enables you to achieve a rich, uniform tan. Applied lavishly, it preserves the natural color of your skin. It is in cream form, completely undetectable. $1.25 the tube.

Elizabeth Arden's Powder in Southern Shades

It is vital that you use a deeper tone of powder as soon as you acquire your tan. You know how unnatural a light shade of powder looks on tanned skin. Rose Rachel, Light and Dark Rosetta are shades which Miss Arden has blended especially for Southern use. And here is an excellent suggestion: Use powder on your chin and forehead and leave the cheeks unpowdered. The result: a devastatingly natural effect. As for the powder itself, as you know there is no purer, finer, more exquisite face powder than Poudre d'Illusion. $3.

Velva Beauty Film

This is Elizabeth Arden's new make-up idea to give all of you a lovely, smooth tan. It comes in paste form in a tube and gives a velvety finish to the legs. And with shorts such a high fashion, it is so important for the legs to look well-groomed. It is superb under sheer evening stockings for dancing and dining. In three shades, Light, Dark and Evening. $1.25 a tube.

● It is wise to have an occasional Face Treatment at the Elizabeth Arden Salon to preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin. For an appointment please telephone Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 2830.

One Reason for Your Good Health!

An Adequate Supply of Pure Water

As an accommodation to patrons arriving in town during the hours that our office is closed (Saturday after 12 noon, Sundays, Holidays and between the hours of 5 P. M. and 8 A. M.) the order will receive prompt attention if phoned to our Pumping Station. Telephone number 4732.

Purity of water is essential to community health and the maintenance of a constant adequate supply of pure water is a task of no mean proportion. Water furnished consumers through the mains of the West Palm Beach Water Company is as pure as it is humanly possible to make it. There is a constant, never-ending effort to keep it so. How successful this utility has been in the task is evidenced in the reports of the city health officer, the Florida State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service. Each of these three health-guarding agencies check samples of West Palm Beach Water Company water at regular intervals.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

AGAIN . . . There is a Better Automobile and AGAIN . . . BUICK is Building It!

One glance at the 1934 Buick . . . one ride in it . . . and you'll know that it confirms the thirty-year truth . . . When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

This new Buick brings you the biggest improvement in riding smoothness and steadiness ever accomplished—resulting from Knee-Action wheels, balanced weight and springing, the ride stabilizer and air-cushion tires. It provides the unmatched safety of vacuum-power brakes. It brings you complete automatic starting. It also gives you exquisite new Bodies by Fisher with advanced windstream styling and improved Fisher No Draft Ventilation.

We cordially invite you to see the new Buick for 1934 at your Buick dealer's showroom—and to ride in it and drive it at your earliest convenience. Your own judgment will tell you that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.

From the tables of famous families came these gorgeous pieces of silver. Cherished through prosperous years and held onto grimly during lean ones, these magnificent pieces have been handed down through many generations. But now there is nothing left except the family silver and it, too, must go. That is why I am able to offer at these sensational prices, silver that has graced the tables of the great.

POLO

IN ONE OF THE FASTEST polo games of the season which was replete with thrills and hard riding from start to finish, the Palm Beach Reds defeated the Gulfstream Whites recently 10 to 9, with the score being tied three times in the last chukker, and thereby won the Mrs. Robert H. Hassler trophies. Michael Phipps, former captain of the Yale polo team, made the winning tally for the Red team in the last few seconds of play. Winston Guest, internationally known polo star played his first game of the season at Gulfstream on the Reds and rode in his usual fine form, making some excellent shots and aiding his teammates.

Stewart Preece, of Westbury and Gulfstream and Stephen "Laddie" Sanford, nationally known figure in the world of polo did some excellent riding for the White team and registered a number of goals.

On the Reds were Messrs. Robert H. Hassler, Hubert Phipps, Michael Phipps and Winston Guest. Playing for the Whites were C. B. Wrightsman, Stewart Preece, Stephen Sanford and Ivor Balding.

The Texas Wonders made up of a hard riding aggregation of nationally known polo players, made an impressive showing Thursday morning in their initial game of the season at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream, when they defeated the Palm Beach Whites, 11 to 7 in a most spectacular match.

The match was played in the morning due to the opening of Hialeah park in the afternoon. Steve Farrish, the long hitting, hard riding Texas star, had a bad fall in the last chukker, being bruised considerably.

On the Texas Wonders were, C. B. Wrightsman, Steven Farrish, Ivor Balding and George Atwell.

On the Palm Beach Whites were Henry Nelson, Stewart Preece, Michael Phipps and Hubert Phipps.

Another interesting match played recently was that between the Palm Beach polo players and the Texas Wonders, in which the latter team was nosed out by the close score of 10 to 8, the Palm Beach quartet winning the Miss Wendy Iglehart trophies and furnishing resort spectators with one of the most thrilling games of the season.

Long hitting and fast riding featured the match with the score being tied in the last period by Stewart Preece of the Texas Wonders. Then two quick goals in the last few minutes of play by Michael Phipps and George Atwell of the Palm Beach team gave them the lead and the trophies.

Terrence Preece, who took Stephen "Laddie" Sanford's place the latter being unable to play, was high scorer of the day with six goals.

On the Palm Beach team were Robert H. Hassler, Michael Phipps, Terrence Preece and George Atwell.

Making up the Texas Wonders were Hubert Phipps, Stewart Preece, C. B. Wrightsman and Ivor Balding.

The Whites swamped the Reds 10 to 5 recently in a one-sided polo game played at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream. Perfect team work on the side of the Whites coupled with excellent individual playing made the victory an easy one.

Hubert Phipps, playing at number one position for the Whites, was high scorer for the day receiving "Laddie" Sanford's passes with uncanny accuracy. Major Rex Benson was a tower of strength for the White team at back.

The field was a bit slow due to heavy showers that have been experienced in that vicinity during the few days past.

EVEN the man or woman who leaves everything about the car to the chauffeur knows that the heart of a motor car is its engine. Beneath the hood of every new Lincoln is a V-12 cylinder engine which develops 150 horsepower. Lincoln engineers declare it the finest they have yet designed. Its perfection results from extended research, long experience. . . . The Lincoln is not an automobile which can be built hurriedly, or sold cheaply. But the Lincoln will serve you handsomely. This is a luxurious car, a safe car, a car that will leave you refreshed at the end of journeys longer than you are used to making. And it is a car easy to keep in condition, as many who own two, three or five Lincolns will attest. . . . Faster acceleration. Improved braking mechanism. New clear-vision ventilation system. Two wheelbase lengths, in standard and custom-built body types. From $3200, at Detroit.

Twenty-six years ago in the Tennessee mountains two national figures went their separate ways. Recently they again met at the luncheon hour at Vineta Walk in the Vineta. One of them is Captain Richmond P. Hobson, whose historic exploit in attempting to bottle-up the Spanish fleet in Santiago harbor during the Spanish-American war by sinking the Merrimac, is writ high in the Book of Fame. Captain Hobson returned to the Vineta for his annual stay a few days ago. The other is the artist, Brantley Smith, of Nashville, Tenn., who was a frequent visitor to the resort prior to 1908. Mr. Smith's two portraits of the late Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, for whom Mr. Flagler built Whitehall, are generally conceded her best likenesses.

He has a fund of anecdotes regarding his old friend Captain Hobson, who was as much of a national hero then as Colonel Lindbergh is now, and, like Colonel Lindbergh, experienced difficulties in guarding his personal belongings, clothing and laundry, from the onslaughts of souvenir hunters. Both Mr. Smith and Captain Hobson will be at the Vineta for the season.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

HIS is a season of jewels—emeralds like the green shores of Erin, rubies with glowing depths of flame, sapphires, pearls and diamonds are taken from the safe deposit boxes to glitter on slender throats and capacious bosoms. At every smart occasion one sees a fine display of jewels, necklaces of diamonds and pearls, bracelets that cover the arms like the gauntlets of ancient armor from wrist to elbow, rings that blaze in rays of fire from lovely white fingers.

Individual jewelry adds much to the effectiveness of a gown. Sets of jewels are coming back, the heavy and ornate sets great-grandmother wore. Now that most of these old jewels have been broken up and reset, it is the most natural thing in the world that they should return to fashion. Bracelets and clips in sets are much in vogue. The clips snap together to form a large brooch. Another ensemble includes a pair of clips and a buckle, one worn on each shoulder and the buckle in the back at the point of the low décolletage. Wherever you go you will see the flash of jewels—does it really matter very much if they are originals or clever copies, so long as they fulfill their purpose of beauty?

SOUTH FLORIDA TOURNAMENT

TOMMY GOODWIN, youthful Monroe, N. Y. golfer, won an easy victory over Manuel Ortuno of West Palm Beach for a second time in the finals of the South Florida Championship event, defeating him 7 and 6 over the 36 hole route. Both played good golf in the morning round with Goodwin being only 1 up at the end of the first 18 holes. Goodwin tallied 35-36-71 while Ortuno was right behind him with a 37-35-72.

In the afternoon round however, pressure began to show on Ortuno and although his driving was superb his work on the green was erratic. Goodwin played sub-par golf on the first nine of the afternoon round, six strokes under Ortuno, placing him six up at the turn without the West Palm Beach golfer winning a single hole.

Cards, morning round:

Third flight winner was Dr. R. C. Denison of Lake Worth, who defeated Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, 2 and 1.

Winner of the consolation event was C. A. Edwards of New York, who defeated William B. Langford of Chicago, 2 and 1.

Tommy Goodwin, Monroe (N. Y.) golf flash, who has added several Florida tournaments to his scalp belt recently, won the medal round of the Annual South Florida Tournament, turning in a 73 for the eighteen holes. Robert Lester, of West Orange, N. J., was two strokes behind him with a 75.

Goodwin, who had a 36, one over par, on the out nine, spoiling a perfect par when he drew a five on the fourth hole, had plenty of trouble on the fourteenth, taking an eight there, but had three birdies to keep his tally for the last nine down to 37.

Tommy Goodwin won his first day of match play, defeating George Rasmussen, Jr., 4 and 2.

Goodwin failed to play his usual championship form on the out nine, tallying a 39 after taking a 6 and 7 on the fourth and fifth holes, leaving him 1 down at the turn, his opponent registering a 40.

On the in nine, however, he settled down, finishing with a par 34, while Rasmussen took several 5's and conceded the fifteenth and sixteenth holes, losing the match.

Manual Ortuno, of West Palm Beach, defeated W. B. Langford of Chicago, 3 and 1.

Goodwin played just an average game of golf to defeat C. W. Kittleman, Greenville, Miss., 3 and 2, in the quarter finals of the South Florida Tournament.

Goodwin failed to demonstrate any championship form, on either round, see-sawing back and forth with Kittleman on the out nine to make a 38 to a 39 registered by the latter. Goodwin was 1 up on the turn and halved the tenth. Kittleman's putting began to bother him from then on, causing him to lose the eleventh with a 5. He also dropped the thirteenth with a 5 and the fourteenth with a 6, but took the fifteenth with a par 3, halved the sixteenth, the match ending there.

Kittleman stymied Goodwin on the fifth and seventh holes, but the latter negotiated them on each occasion, halving the holes with 5's.

Manuel Ortuno, West Palm Beach shotmaker, won his match over T. W. Potter of Glencove, L. I., after the latter had him 1 down at the turn. Potter shot them straight down the fairway on the out nine, making 5's on the first and ninth holes and garnering 4's the rest of the way to chalk up a 38 as against a 39 made by Ortuno.

On the in round, however, he failed to play his steady game. He took the tenth with a birdie 3, but Ortuno outstroked him on five straight holes to take the match.

WITH THE ARTISTS AND WRITERS

FONTAINE FOX of Toonerville Trolley fame, upheld the honor of the artists end of the Artists and Writers group when he defeated Dick Hyland, New York writer, 4 and 3 over the 18 hole route at the Palm Beach Country Club, to win the finals of the Seventh Annual Artists and Writers tournament.

Rube Goldberg, phenomenon of the tournament, just as his cartoons are the phenomenon of the picture page, made it a double victory for the cartoonists, winning the second flight and his initial golf tournament defeating E. F. Wittmack, 3 and 2.

In the guest flight M. S. Sloan defeated Dr. Wehrbein, 1 up. In the first flight beaten eight, Billy DeBeck came out on top defeating someone 2 and 1, and in the second flight of the beaten eight, Gene Buck defeated James H. R. Cromwell, 2 and 1.

Forty members of that famous group of Artists and Writers qualified in the opening round of their Seventh Annual Golf Tournament held over the sporty course of the Palm Beach Country Club with Rex Beach, defending champion, and one of the three musketeers of the real golfers in the group, (the others being Arthur Somers Roche and Grantland Rice) winning the medal round with a 41-39—80.

Jimmy Powers, well known New York journalist, separated Arthur Somers Roche from Rex Beach in the medal round, garnering a 43-41—84, while the aforesaid novelist and Palm Beach winter resident, knocked them off for third place with a 44-43—87. Grantland Rice, who used to be the champion until Roche and Beach began their secret practice, was among those present in the first flight, making a 42-48—90, blaming it on the large gallery which he said followed his match and which made him frightfully nervous.

Beach card—

Rube Goldberg, who has been reading the American Golfer diligently for many moons, in order to improve his stroke, succeeded in making the second flight, much to his own surprise and delight, tallying 108 for the round.

Guest Flight—Owen Davis, Jr., 46-47—93; Al Pach, 51-53—104; M. S. Sloan, 49-46—95; Grant Powers, 52-50—102; F. H. Van Ness, 53-52—105; Frank Powers, 51-47—98; Dr. Wehrbein, 52-53—105; James Hammond, 45-38

Special Nine-Hole Medal Play—James Montgomery Flagg, 41; Floyd Davis, 45; Arthur William Brown, 54; Saul Teppel, 57; E. F. Wittmack, 58; John Golden, 68; Sid Hydeman, 68; Leroy "Sport" Ward, 72; Sumner Blossom, 76.

Rex Beach, Grantland Rice and Arthur Somers Roche, the three musketeers of the annual Artists' and Writers' Golf Tournament, came through in the first day of match play, winning over their opponents and passing on to more worlds to conquer.

Rex Beach made the low score of the triumvirate, a 79, defeating R. T. Denby, 6 and 4. Grantland Rice hung up an even 80, defeating Dave Roberts, 4 and 3, while Arthur Somers Roche eliminated George Abbott to the tune of 4 and 2.

Rex Beach, who was medalist in the event, tallying an 80, lopped off a stroke in the match of former play, tacking up a 38-41—79 for the round.

Rice worked just the opposite, making a 41 on the out nine, taking 6's on the fifth and ninth holes. He came back stronger, stumbled also for a seven on the eleventh but sailed smoothly the rest of the way to make a 39, totaling 80 for the eighteen holes.

Grantland Rice and Rex Beach, staunch bulwarks of the royal and ancient game of golf were stricken from the lists in the quarter-finals, leaving only one of the three musketeers of Artists and Writers golfdom, Arthur Somers Roche, to uphold the honor of the game.

Grantland Rice perennial champion of the illustrious aggregation, was forced to yield his position to Frank Crowninshield, editor of Vanity Fair, on the final hole, when he failed to sink the little white ball in five strokes, which was what his opponent did.

Rex Beach, who won the event last year, after someone had conveniently removed Grantland Rice in a lower bracket, did not surrender so easily. In fact, it took nineteen holes to do the trick but Dick Hyland was right in there fighting. Rex Beach lost a towel out of his hip-picket, which disconcerted him somewhat and went down to glorious defeat on the extra hole, when Hyland tallied a birdie 3 in some hot-shot golfing.

Arthur Somers Roche, who was runner-up to Beach in last year's match, sailed along smoothly defeating Jimmy Powers, New York newspaper scribe to the tune of 2 and 1. Another winner in the quarter-finals was Fontaine Fox of Toonerville Trolley fame, who defeated Philip Kobbe, 4 and 3.

Rube Goldberg, who has finally discovered just what it takes to play tournament golf, defeated R. L. Simon in the second flight, 3 and 2. Other winners were Owen Davis, who defeated William Chenerey, 4 and 3; H. T. Webster, creator of Mr. Milquetoast, who won out over his friend, Charley Williams, the illustrator, 4 and 3, and E. F. Wittmack, who won over Clarence Budington Kelland by default.

Arthur Somers Roche, sole defender of the old regime of champions and near champions in the annual Artists and Writers golf tournament, failed to survive the onslaught of new blood and went down to defeat at the hands of Dick Hyland in the semi-final round, losing by the score of 1 up, joining the also-rans, Rex Beach and Grantland Rice.

ANGLERS PARADISE

THE FISHING GROUNDS in the Gulf Stream off Palm Beach have been a veritable anglers' paradise the past week, with catches running as large as six and seven "sails," being common. Northerly breezes have brought sailfish down in large numbers and those who wanted to experience some real fishing have had the opportunity of trying their luck. Some of the largest sailfish of the season and many other varieties of game fish have been brought to gaff within the past few days.

Mrs. Amy Mollison, famous aviatrix and transatlantic flier, landed her first sailfish recently while out as guest of Mr. Harry Rosenfeld and Mr. Edwin Goodman. Princess Chavchavadze and Count de Forceville were also members of the party and both brought in sailfish. They were out with Capt. Walt Githens on the "Miss Sally," from the Poinciana basin.

One of the record sailfish of the season weighing eighty-seven pounds and measuring eight feet four and one-half inches was brought in recently by Mr. H. L. Atlass of Chicago, who was rewarded with the huge specimen after going out every day for a week.

Mr. Atlass handled the fish most expertly, bringing it to gaff in little over half an hour. He is having it mounted by Fred C. N. Parke, the noted taxidermist.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Leigh of London, England, who are making a stay at Whitehall, had a most thrilling day's fishing in the Gulf Stream recently.

Mrs. Leigh landed a hefty sailfish weighing sixty-five pounds and Mr. Leigh brought another large one to gaff. It was their first experience fishing in Palm Beach waters and they praised the sport highly. They were out with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser on the "Blackjack," from Poinciana basin.

Landing two sailfish measuring more than eight feet and accumulating a total of five for the day's trip was the interesting experience of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Thomas III, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tennant of Doume Lodge, Doume-Perthshire, Scotland, who were out in the Gulf Stream recently with Capt. Sherrick Hiscock on the "Mist."

Mrs. Thomas landed an eight-foot sailfish after a lengthy struggle, but handled her rod like a veteran angler and brought the sixty-pound "sail" to gaff. Mr. Tennant landed a sizeable one but turned it loose as it wasn't in the eight-foot class. Mr. Thomas landed two but turned them loose after bringing them alongside. Capt. Hiscock who, had a line out, landed the largest one, measuring eight feet one-quarter inch.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kineon and their son, James, had a most successful day's trip, landing four large sailfish while out with Capt. Steinhauser on the "Blackjack." Capt. Rudy said he had never seen sailfish so plentiful.

Mr. George T. Waterman who was out with a party, landed a beautiful sailfish and hooked at least five. They were out with Capt. Tom Jones on the "Miroamy III" from Poinciana basin.

Dr. David C. Morton and Dr. Robert Preston of Richmond, Va., who are spending an interval in Palm Beach, had their initial experience sailfishing yesterday, each landing a large specimen. Dr. Morton's measured 7 feet five inches and he stated it was one of the greatest thrills he had ever had. They were out with Capt. Bert Hiscock on the "Goldfish."

Mr. Arnold Scharen and a group of friends from Chicago made a successful catch as the result of an afternoon's fishing. They landed two sailfish measuring seven feet two inches and another weighing fifty pounds as well as two bonita and had a number of sailfish hooked. They were out on the "Fun," with Capt. Kenneth Foster from the Poinciana basin.

Mr. John E. Dordan of New York, veteran winter visitor to Palm Beach, went out in company with Mr. Harold Brandt of Atlantic City and landed a large sailfish measuring seven feet ten inches in length and weighing fifty-five pounds.

Dr. and Mrs. William F. Lyons and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hair, of Chicago, who are staying at Boca Raton, have been making frequent trips into the Gulf Stream and landing fine specimens of "sails," and other game fish. Dr. Lyons and Mr. Hair brought in two large sailfish recently after being out with Capt. Steinhauser on the "Blackjack," from Poinciana basin. They pronounced the fishing grounds off Palm Beach to be the best on the entire Florida coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thompson, of Atlanta, and Oscar Thompson, Jr., the II and III, together with E. D. Anthony and Hamilton Anthony, made up a fishing party recently.

Mr. Thompson succeeded in landing a sailfish, measuring seven feet, six inches, and a dolphin. Oscar Thompson, Jr., caught a dolphin and Oscar Thompson, the III, had a sailfish hooked and allowed him to get away.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. MacHold of New York City who are staying at Whitehall, brought back four trophies as the result of a day's fishing in the Gulf Stream. Mrs. MacHold landed a fine specimen of "sail," and Mr. MacHold caught three measuring respectively seven feet ten inches, seven feet eight inches and seven feet two inches.

POST-PROHIBITION ETIQUETTE

By NATALIE WALSH

SOFT LIGHTS, soft music and tables for two. Glittering restaurants, fine food and good companions. A roaring fire, deep chairs and quiet talk. All of these little amenities of life are good in themselves, but pleasure in them has been infinitely intensified since December 5th. Romantic moments grow more romantic, good food grows better, and friendship deepens to an accompaniment of fine wines and liquors. Wider and wider grows the circle in which liquor is once again served. More and more dinners, formal and informal, include in their menu a selection of wines and liqueurs for palates for fifteen years unfamiliar with such luxuries.

It will not be long before Florida joins the other states in giant toast to the repeal of Prohibition. Guests at the Colony Club, couples at the Patio and parties at the Everglades and groups at the Margery will while away the dinner hour or an evening as they are now doing at the Waldorf, the Plaza and the Central Park Casino. Just as New York's clever hostesses are taking pains to learn the knack of choosing and serving wines, so the winter colonists in Florida will want to know the ins and outs of this ancient and honorable art.

Don't think for a moment that because all liquors are available, all liquors are proper at all times. Because your cellar happens to contain a good supply of fine old Port, don't sling it into a tumbler and serve it with the roast. This is an obvious mistake, of course, which any hostess would scorn to make. But there are certain ramifications of the fundamental rules of wine service which the prospective 1934-35 hostess may wish to brush up on.

With all the confusing advice now being given the inexperienced but ambitious hostess, the best course for her to follow is that of simplicity and taste. She should learn how to achieve harmony between wine and food; she should get to know a few good wines and one or two great ones. She should, for the time being, avoid the service of a too-complicated menu. For her guidance, we submit as compactly as possible the elements of sound wine service.

Aperitifs: An old, dry Amontillado Sherry, a fine Vermouth, or a Gloria Mundi Madeira.

Oysters and shellfish: A dry white wine.

Soup: Sherry or Madeira.

Fish: Rhine wine, a dry Graves, dry Champagne.

Entree (Light meats, chicken, etc.): Light Burgundy (red) or Bordeaux.

Red Meats and Game: Bordeaux, full red Burgundies, Cotes du Rhone.

Dessert: Champagne, a syrupy Sauterne like Yquem, Madeira, Port or Sherry.

Fruits, Nuts and Cheese: Port, Sherry or a rich Madeira, like a Duke of Clarence Malmsey.

Coffee: Liqueur cognac.

Remember that wine at table is a complement of food flavors, not a thing apart.

Red wines should be served at room temperature.

Champagnes, Sauterne, Rhine Wines and Moselles should be iced; other white wines chilled.

Never serve two wines simultaneously; never serve a red wine before a white wine, or a sweet wine before a dry one. Although it is not a rigid rule, it is generally accepted that only three glasses should appear on the table at once—the water goblet, and two wine glasses.

For late suppers and after theatre parties, wines are a delicious change from the conventional and overdone highball. Port, Sherry, or Madeira, are ideal for this purpose. El Rei Sercial, with its dry, delicate bouquet, is delicious with cheese dishes. A Madeira—golden brown and medium dry—will be a new and romantic experience for post-Prohibition guests.

Knowing what wine to serve is only half the battle. What they are to be served in is an essential part of correct wine service. To be strictly de rigueur, you should serve wines only in clear crystal glasses. Deep blues and mulberries are smart and stunning, but since the connoisseur is concerned almost as much with the fascinating lights and tints in his wine as he is with the bouquet and flavor, he resents having his pleasure diminished by glasses with a decided color.

After the cocktail, served in a glass which certainly needs no description, comes the soup wine, Madeira or Sherry. Both of these are served in a glass which is medium sized and tuliped-shaped.

With the fish serve your Rhine wine or White Burgundy in a tulip-shaped glass with a larger bowl than the Sherry glass. With the entree, serve claret in an even larger glass than the other two, either with sloping sides or with a sharp flair at the base of the goblet and straight sides. The Burgundy glass for the roast is a very large edition of the claret glass. With the game or for toasts, serve champagne, either in a tulip-shaped glass or in a wide shallow glass with a tall stem. In serving champagne, it is well to have glasses with hollow stems to preserve the effervescent bubbles of this famous drink. For the dessert course use Duke of Clarence Malmsey, served in a Sherry glass. With the demi-tasse, a cordial glass is used. These are very small, very narrow glasses, the bowl rising directly from the line of the stem with very little flair. The brandy glass is a short-stemmed glass with a large bowl which bulges at the bottom and grows smaller at the top.

The art of gracious living is here epitomized in glasses of crystal—the finishing note to the service of a formal dinner presented in the new spirit of today. The three glasses represent the maximum which good taste will observe; the water goblet, the Burgundy or claret glass and the glass for Madeira—either a Caravela with the soup or a Duke of Clarence Malmsey with the dessert.—Ovingtons have furnished the crystal, and Altman the cloth.

THE SPANISH, or Mediterranean type of architecture so much in favor in South Florida because of its conformity with the terrain and climatic conditions has offered resort architects and craftsmen in this section, a wide field of expression for carrying out to the fullest extent creative ideas. This is especially noted both in the exteriors and interiors of a host of distinctive residences which have been built in this vicinity. The bright sunlight and tropical climate has permitted the use of furnishings and decorations of old world charm such as are noted in dwellings of countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea.

An evidence of this may be seen in the delightful residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Verner Reed situated on a spacious tract of land overlooking the waters of Hobe Sound and the Atlantic, built some while ago with additions during the past summer, making it ideally complete. Spanish architecture predominates throughout the residence with its roof of old Cuban tile, projecting wood balconies, turned wood grills, shuttered windows and entrance tower.

Upon reaching the house, one is admitted to a circular entrance hall and immediately becomes interested in a stairway of unique design, combining old Spanish tile risers of

*The dining room of the Reed residence is an example of charming interior. The walls from floor to ceiling are panelled in Florida cypress wood. varied figures, treads of plain Cuban tile balusters and posts of natural wood treatment in cypress, the whole affording a contrast in color and effectiveness that is out of the ordinary.

Leaving the entrance hall one continues through a vaulted passageway to the main rooms of the house, of which the dining room is a splendid example of charming interior. Walls are of panelled Florida cypress wood. A quarry key stone fireplace adds cheer to one end of the room while the floor is of a diagonally laid old Cuban tile. Access to the West patio is permitted through large double doors.

Patios, those necessary adjuncts to the comfort and livableness of a Florida home are well represented in the Reed residence. The west patio which was a part of the original construction, is enclosed on three sides and overlooks Hobe Sound, tropical planting and a spacious porch making it ideal for lounging on a warm day. To the South a new walled-in patio was added during the summer, off of which is another large loggia facing west. This gives entrance to the children's bedrooms and also a new library carried out in oak panelling which has departed from the Spanish enough to give it a distinct old English flavor in design. Over the children's bedrooms has been added a large master's bedroom affording an excellent view of the surrounding terrain.

The sixth annual Russian Students' Ball, the proceeds of which will benefit unemployed students of the Russian Alumni and Students Association, took place last Friday night at the Ritz-Carlton. The entire ballroom suite, oval restaurant and palm court were reminiscent of the old Russian regime. Imperial and national flags decorated the great ballroom with the imperial coat-of-arms, the black and gold double eagle, over the entrance. Balloons of red, white and blue, representing the national colors, were released during the dancing, for which Joe Moss is prepared an arrangement of Russian music.

A wintry scene was presented in the foyer, with snow-clad evergreens decorating the landings. Russian food was served at the midnight supper, during which Mme. Anna Shishkina sang with the Gypsy Choir, and other vocal entertainers included Mme. Zinaida Nicolina, of the radio, and Prince Alexis Obolensky, Karavaeff danced several Russian character dances.

Authentic Russian head-dresses were worn by members of the debutante and junior committees, who sold flowers and souvenir programs. Princess Dolly Obolensky, debutante committee chairman, attended the ball dressed as a Russian Princess at the court of the late Czar.

Miss Flora Fairchild Tobin, chairman of the debutante committee, added several new members to her staff, which included the Misses Carol Barnes and Dorothea Barron Malory, Mrs. Clement S. Henry, Jr., Mrs. Crosby Tuttle Smith, Mrs. C. Shelby Carter, Mrs. Peter C. Wright Clark and Mrs. Reginald M. # HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR GAME

By JOHN R. TUNIS

THE VAST MAJORITY of tennis champions have been self-taught. Maybe that's why they are champions. Self taught? Certainly. What we learn by our own efforts we don't forget. The service of Tilden, the forehand of Vines, the smash of Lott, were not given by God. They are acquired by observation and practice. The chief difference between the dub and the champion is that after the latter becomes a fairly good player, he keeps on learning. Whereas the dub, content to hit the ball anyhow, stops learning.

So far as I know there isn't any correspondence school which can teach you to be a tennis champion in ten lessons. Nor is that the purpose of these articles. I shall try only to set down a few fundamental rules which if observed consistently will raise the game of the average man or woman at least 100 per cent.

But these rules must be followed. Whether in practice or playing against a wall or in a game, you must consciously try all the time to improve your strokes, you must make an effort to think what you are doing. At first these suggestions will be hard to remember, after a while they will be easier. If you persist they will become second nature, and you will be beating players from whom you never previously took a set.

Progress at first is always slow. Don't be discouraged. Rene LaCoste, the great French champion, had a brick wall behind his house in Paris where he used to practice every day. At the end of each season that wall had to be completely rebuilt.

The easiest way to set down a few simple rules to assist the average tennis player to strengthen his game, is to explain some of his faults. Of all faults made by the dub, the worst is that usually he stands too close to the ball in making his stroke. Have you ever seen a first class player like Tilden or Vines make a fullblooded forehand drive? Watch them. Or look at their photographs in action. Notice how they get their body away from the ball, how they open their shoulders and hit it with outstretched arm. The good player makes a full, free drive.

Whereas the beginner cramps. He takes the ball up under his right ear. He takes it by his right elbow. He takes it anywhere and everywhere, but always too close to his body.

The cause of this cramping is usually hurry. He sees the ball moving across the net into his court. He becomes panicstricken, afraid he won't reach the spot where it will fall. So he rushes over and hurls himself in such a hurry that invariably he is on top of it when he makes his stroke. Take your time. Watch the flight of the ball carefully. Here is a tip. You always have more time than you think. Occasionally you will be too late for the ball. Nine times out of ten you will be too soon.

Don't rush at the ball. Don't cramp. Keep away from it as much as possible, watching and measuring with your eye the distance between the spot where it bounces and your body. Hit it as far from you as you can. If you find it bouncing closer than you expected, take a quick step away. Don't cramp.

MIAMI BEACH

RISTOCRACY of the Florida sports and social world will focus attention on aristocracy of the equine world February 22-25, when the second annual Miami Biltmore National Horse Show will be held at the Tropical Park race track. A list of exhibitors which reads like the "Who's Who" of the horse show world will bring to the Tropical Park ring an assemblage of equine bluebloods that forecasts the show as one of the most important ever held in the east. Among those whose four-footed thoroughbreds will tread the ring for a long list of ribbons and trophies to be awarded winners will be: Mrs. C. B. Kellogg, of Cedar Grove Road, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Charlotte Ives Montgomery, of Villa Nova, Pa.; Miss Eleanor Pratt, of Crayslake, Ill.; Mrs. A. C. Thompson, of Elmhurst, Ill.; Donald Grant Herring, Rothers Barrows Farm, Princeton, N. J.; Louis Kaiser, of Bethel, Conn.; John M. Ogden, Atlanta, Ga., and Pritchard H. Strong, of Allen's Creek Road, Rochester, N. Y.

Colored by the smart atmosphere of boots and saddles, the already brilliant resort life here promises to attain new peaks during the horse show, with a continuous succession of festivities planned in honor of the visiting exhibitors at the Florida Year-Round Clubs.

Rivalling the horse show for the spotlight on the February calendar is the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund Ball to be given on Washington's birthday night at the Miami Biltmore Country Club. With more than 100 nominations already made for the meritorious charitable service medal which will be awarded at the ball, the event is centering philanthropic as well as social interest.

Assisting Mrs. Henry L. Doherty, honorary chairman, and Mrs. A. E. Rickmers, chairman, with plans for the event are a group of the resort's best known hostesses.

This week the resort colony has reverted to the informal activities that always play an important part in the success of any season. At the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club beach luncheons, swimming parties and cabana bridge groups have been the favorite form of diversion, with many members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs entertaining. Among those having guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pearson, Walpole, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Greene, Cleveland social regitrites, who joined their daughter, Helen, at the Roney Plaza during the week; J. M. Keller, St. Louis financier, and Mrs. Keller; Albert Kaufman, Paramount Pictures executive, and Howard Hughes, producer of the screen success, "Hell's Angels," who is here spending the season on his yacht.

The parade of the nation's noted across the stage of the resort colony has been suggested by many interesting additions during the week. Among familiar figures on the sands of the Roney Plaza have been Max Baer, Miss June Knight, and Miss Claire Windsor, the screen stars, and the three Boswell Sisters, of radio fame, who are on vacation at the Miami Biltmore hotel.

Visiting players here for the Miami Biltmore Women's Invitation Golf Tournament were guests of honor at one of the unique affairs of the season, a golf ball at the Biltmore hotel Thursday night. The stately Spanish dining room became the replica of a golf course for the occasion and many celebrities of stage and screen joined members of the Miami Biltmore review to present a gala program in keeping with the occasion.

Among well known feminine golfers who teed off in the tournament were Miss Grace Amory, of the Palm Beach winter colony; Miss Aline de Gunzbourg, of Paris, France; Miss Maureen Orcutt, White Beeches, N. Y.; Miss Helen Hicks, New York; Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. J. J. Lawlor, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Miss Jane Douglas, Beverly Hills, Cal.; Mrs. W. E. Quillian, Forest Hills, N. Y., and many others.

Members of the junior winter colony had their innings at the Miami Biltmore Country Club Saturday when the second annual Florida State Kiddies Golf Championship was staged, with many young Bobby Jones and Maureen Orcutts of the future competing for trophies and prizes. The junior clan will hold the center of the stage again February 14, St. Valentine's day, when festivities will be staged for young sons and daughters of Florida Year-Round Clubs members in the Biltmore playroom.

Exotic pink flamingoes add to the tropical beauty of the grounds of the Roney-Plaza at Miami Beach, their slender forms and brilliant coloring reflected in the limpid pools.

Among those giving luncheons Saturday in the clubhouse at Hialeah Park preceding the running of the Hialeah Stakes were Mayor Everest G. Sewell and Mrs. Sewell, Mr. Joseph E. Widener, Mr. Jesse Smith, Dr. Thomas Cassidy, Mr. John C. Clark, Mr. R. D. Hartshorn, Mr. Frank J. Bruen, Mr. W. A. Hanger, Mr. E. C. Roming, Mr. Howard C. Brokaw, Mrs. Joseph B. Graham and Mr. Paul Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wainwright Churchill, of New York, had as guests Friday for luncheon and the races Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Noblit, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hartshorne, of New York; Mrs. C. R. Lindbach, of Ventnor, N. J., who entertained for Mrs. Clement Restein, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Richard Howe who had as guests Mrs. Elsie Moore Torlonia and others at the track.

Miss Kathryn Crockett, of New York, was among the guests of Mrs. Frank B. Shutts, whose party included Mrs. Manning S. Burbank, Mrs. Dennis J. Dooley and Mrs. H. Pierre Robineau.

Mrs. Juno Sanchez, Miss Claire Windsor, Mr. Paul Leviton, of New York; Dr. and Mrs. Charles V. Paterno, Mr. H. A. Peters and Mrs. H. A. Peters, Jr., were others in the boxes for Friday's races.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY UNDER THE SUN

LOUNGING on the yellow sand of Palm Beach, basking in the health-giving rays of the sun and tangy sea air, dancing gayly under the romantic Southern moon, one is inspired to think of beauty and health and the gorgeous bounties of nature. Palm Beach is rich in its opportunities for developing health and beauty of body and face, and Helena Rubinstein, international beauty authority, urges every woman to follow a carefully planned program of exercises and beauty treatments to derive the utmost benefit from the Palm Beach season.

A course of exercises based on fundamental principles for normalizing the contour and weight of the body, and an accompanying course of beauty treatments to be taken in conjunction with sun-bathing have been planned by Helena Rubinstein, especially for the Palm Beach season.

"In the past few decades," explains Madame Rubinstein, "women have followed the military type of exercises. These develop sharp movements rather than grace; consequently they are far from being the ideal exercise systems for women. It is my opinion that the correct exercise system should do more than take off weight or develop muscles. Exercises which are anatomically correct and done in planes of curves, tend to develop a plastic smooth muscle rather than the bulgy, fore-shortened muscles. They have as their essential function the molding of beautiful contours and the development of elasticity which gives smooth rhythmic swing to every movement of the body.

"It is through physical rhythm that the body learns poise, self-forgetfulness and physical repose. All the standards of fashion and beauty today are toward curves and grace. The flat boyish figure is gradually fading out of the style picture, and we are returning to the fundamentals of physical beauty which once made Greece the center of the world's beauty."

Roof gardens or inclosed lawns or even the beach are ideal places to practice the exercises which Madame Rubinstein recommends. By exercising outdoors, one has the additional advantage of getting the full benefit of the sun rays on the body at the same time, although precautionary measures, explained later in this article, should be taken to prevent harmful burning. Madame Rubinstein stresses the need for relaxation as well as exercises, a need that is well met in the following exercises which she suggests.

One of the first places an inactive person begins to show signs of weak muscle tone and protruding, flabby muscles, is through the abdominal region. The following exercises will develop firm abdominal muscles. In the first exercise:

(1) Lie on the back, with arms down at sides, neck and shoulder muscles relaxed. (2) Pull the right knee back to chest and fling left arm (relaxed) over the head. (3) Alternate legs and arms. The pull of the leg muscles should be strong, but the muscles of the arms and chest should remain relaxed throughout.

The second exercise: (1) Lie on back with both knees bent and feet placed on the floor. (2) Lift hips so weight is on shoulders and feet. (3) Push the hips out to right up—to left, then down, not touching body to floor, continue circle each direction five times. (4) Pull the abdomen muscles in at the lowest point of the circle, and release the muscles when the abdomen is raised highest.

The following is an exercise for relaxation (1) Lie flat on the back with every muscle relaxed. (2) Lift right arm and let it fall like a dead weight. Do same with left, and alternately with each leg. (3) Open jaw and relax muscles of face and neck. Raise head and let it drop back on bed. (4) Raise both arms over head, stretch, then relax completely. (5) Stretch legs downward from hips, heels leading. Relax completely. (6) Stretch both arms over head, stretch both legs, legs downward. Pull as if body would pull apart at the waist. (7) Maintain complete relaxation with mind in passive state, not worried. (8) Repeat four or five times.

These exercises are designed for strengthening Shoulder and Upper Back Muscles:

(1) Take position on hands and knees, back flat, head held up.

(2) Let elbows bend, keep head well back, lower the upper part of body downward until chest and chin almost touch the floor.

(3) Return to straight arm position, with back flat. To obtain the quickest results, use resistance of the arm muscles as the torso bends up and down.

The body will begin to show signs of improvement almost immediately, and the resulting physical tone will be reflected in the complexion and in improved mental energy.

To make the exercises most effective, Madame Rubinstein urges correct breathing. Very few women with the exception of singers and public speakers breathe correctly, according to Madame Rubinstein. Simple breathing exercises will insure a large supply of fresh air being taken into the lungs and will start one in the habit of correct breathing.

While following the exercises, the face should also come in for its share of attention. Playing out-of-doors, swimming, diving, sun-bathing, romping in the sun, there is always the danger of a deep sunburn which will play havoc with beauty. Delicate tissues must be protected from scorching, aging sunrays. An exposed skin in the sun is an open invitation to freckles, enlarged pores, wilted contour, a parched dry complexion. To offset the dangers of the out-of-doors, and to enhance its welcome gifts, Madame Rubinstein has selected the following beauty essentials for the Southern season.

First, there is a rich pasteurized face cream which not only cleanses thoroughly, but also preserves and restores the vital natural oils of the skin. This cream comes in a special bleaching form which bleaches and preserves the fairness of the skin while it cleanses. For those who want to tan without burning, there is a sunburn oil which protects at the same time encouraging an even, glamorous tan. A rich youthifying tissue cream is indispensable to prevent squint lines and wrinkles, and to keep the skin smooth and soft. A sunproof beauty lotion sunproofs and cools the skin and imparts an exquisite finish particularly desirable for a summer eve's dancing. A sun and windproof cream is also desirable to turn aside the harmful actinic rays of the sun, and protect the complexion, at the same time serving as a foundation. This new and windproof cream is ideal for Southern sports and can be used on arms, face and legs while exercising to prevent burning. Or, if a sun tan is desired, sunburn oil should be used at this time. A waterproof rouge which stays on through salt water and summer humidity is recommended as is also a waterproof Perisian mascara which stays on indefinitely and does not smart the eyes.

UNDER THE STARS

ALA EVENINGS are the rule now at the resort's entertaining restaurants and special features enliven the programs. Last Wednesday the Colony Club celebrated its formal opening for the 1934 season with one of the most elaborate entertainment programs ever offered at the famous rendezvous. Leaders of international society, and of arts, finance and politics attended the gala, which was further enlivened by the presence of a large number of the Artists and Writers Golf Association, now at The Breakers for their tournament.

The entertainers included Alexander and Swanson, internationally known dance team who have appeared in this country at the Pierre, the Biltmore and the Park Central in New York; Eddie and Freddie, the sophisticated songsters and their baby piano; Arthur Brown; The Colony Club Trio and Buddy Wagner and His Internationales. Virtually the entire smart colony attended the formal opening, many of them coming in after dining elsewhere.

Among the smart parties of the past week was a supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche for their guest, Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden, a former member of the cottage colony. The members of the party were seated at small tables on the dance floor, and included also Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Crocker, Mrs. Blanch Hearst, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Miss Melissa Yuille, Miss Margaret Carlisle, Mr. Edward Mr. McIlvain, Jr., Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. James A. Burden, Mr. Thomas W. Potter, Mr.

Grantland Rice, Mr. Douglas W. Paige and Mr. Billy de Beck.

The Patio at Sunset and North Palm Beach Avenues has inaugurated an ingenious and entertaining series of galas on Wednesday evenings. The idea hinges upon a world cruise, with a new port of call reached each week; the first leg of the journey was concluded last Wednesday at Eskimo Land in the Arctic Circle and was designated "Eskimo Night."

All went ashore into a huge igloo, into which the Patio was transformed. Snow drifts, icicles depending from the trees, an electrical Aurora Borealis and, thanks to Mort Dennis and his orchestra, a musical interpretation of an Arctic blizzard, with polar bears and foxes seeking shelter in the Patio's hospitable portals. Torrid tunes were sung by Deslys and Clark. The winter colony responded en masse to the innovation and the world cruise will be continued with new ports and new features each Wednesday.

Among these entertaining at the Patio during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann of New York, and Sunken Orchard, Oyster Bay, L. I., with their daughter, Miss Helena Woolworth McCann, who have recently arrived in the resort. Among young people who frequent the Patio are Miss Beatrice Wagstaff, one of the smart debutantes, Miss Muriel Bache Richards, Mr. George Vanderbilt and Mr. George W. Hard, Miss Mary Louise Lansing, Mr. Robert Newman and Mr. Woolworth Donahue.

Mrs. Charles H. Randle gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. William Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, and others. Other hosts noted were Mr. and Mrs. Luiz Martinez de las Rivas, Commander Grahame-White and many more.

The Ask Mr. Foster Travel Service

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

DON'T BE AN ARMCHAIR TRAVELLER. Lots of people are doing their travelling in armchairs these days, when they could actually be on the deck of a ship going to that long-desired port. It all lies in knowing how to travel—how to match your budget with the desired mileage. You have $50 to spend—or $500 perhaps. How far can you go on that? How long can you stay? Ask Mr. Foster in THE BREAKERS—facing the Casino. Let us balance your budget—mileage against money—and show you how to get to that far place without mortgaging your future. This is our business—we've spent years learning ways and means. We give information—buy tickets—make reservations—plan itineraries by rail, ship, bus or air. For that luncheon or that tea when your guests are too warm to eat—set your table coolly and invitingly!

45 YEARS OF RELIABLE TRAVEL SERVICE
FREE TO THE PUBLIC.

Mr. FOSTER'S Remembrance Shop
112 No. Palm Beach Ave.

We brought these things to Palm Beach to help solve your problems. We have dozens of lovely inexpensive accessories for your winter home. See our 1934 collection. You will not be urged to buy.

Around The Clock

WHETHER its for morning—noon—evening or night LIVINGSTON has the proper thing for the hour.

* * * *

FOR the appointment with Old Sol discard the sun-repelling slacks and sally forth in one of our scanty bathing suits giving lots of scope for tanning.

* * *

THAT morning round of golf may be spoiled if you're not wearing one of our comfy free-swing golf frocks made of aeroplane silk. They're only 10.75.

WHEN cocktails roll round on the rejuvenated tea-wagons you must have an informal look. Not too dressy and just the time for one of our new printed crepes.

BE right at night. And if you believe in odd numbers you may wear the daintiest new challis gown, for to be exact it has nineteen ruffles which swish down the back to form a train.

Be Fit for Fun!

It is so essential that you be lovely every minute of the time you are away. In order for you to know just what you should have, Elizabeth Arden has assembled the preparations that are indispensable to a successful holiday.

Ardena Sunpruf Cream

Elizabeth Arden introduced this preparation last season and it was an immediate success because it worked! Sunpruf Cream absolutely prevents sunburn. Applied lightly it enables you to achieve a rich, uniform tan. Applied lavishly, it preserves the natural color of your skin. It is in cream form, completely undetectable. $1.25 the tube.

Elizabeth Arden's Powder in Southern Shades

It is vital that you use a deeper tone of powder as soon as you acquire your tan. You know how unnatural a light shade of powder looks on tanned skin. Rose Rachel, Light and Dark Rosetta are shades which Miss Arden has blended especially for Southern use. And here is an excellent suggestion: Use powder on your chin and forehead and leave the cheeks unpowdered. The result: a devastatingly natural effect. As for the powder itself, as you know there is no purer, finer, more exquisite face powder than Poudre d'Illusion. $3.

Velva Beauty Film

This is Elizabeth Arden's new make-up idea to give all of you a lovely, smooth tan. It comes in paste form in a tube and gives a velvety finish to the legs. And with shorts such a high fashion, it is so important for the legs to look well-groomed. It is superb under sheer evening stockings for dancing and dining. In three shades, Light, Dark and Evening. $1.25 a tube.

• It is wise to have an occasional Face Treatment at the Elizabeth Arden Salon to preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin. For an appointment please telephone Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 2830.

One Reason for Your Good Health!

An Adequate Supply of Pure Water

As an accommodation to patrons arriving in town during the hours that our office is closed (Saturday after 12 noon, Sundays, Holidays and between the hours of 5 P. M. and 8 A. M.) the order will receive prompt attention if phoned to our Pumping Station. Telephone number 4732.

Purity of water is essential to community health and the maintenance of a constant adequate supply of pure water is a task of no mean proportion. Water furnished consumers through the mains of the West Palm Beach Water Company is as pure as it is humanly possible to make it. There is a constant, never-ending effort to keep it so. How successful this utility has been in the task is evidenced in the reports of the city health officer, the Florida State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service. Each of these three health-guarding agencies check samples of West Palm Beach Water Company water at regular intervals.

*This new era of gracious living

Men and women are living splendidly once more . . . seeking the tasteful and the beautiful in all things . . . and, naturally, this new era of gracious living suggests the ownership of a gracious motor car. We give you Buick for 1934 as the car which mirrors this new mode of life. It is beautiful, with the tasteful beauty you expect of Buick. Its new Bodies by Fisher are spacious . . . luxuriously appointed . . . and comfortable in the extreme. To ride in it is to know relaxed ease such as you have never known before . . . because Buick alone combines Knee-Action Wheels, Balanced Weight and Springing, The Ride Stabilizer and Air Cushion Tires—the four factors which produce the gliding ride as Buick gives it. It is attuned to this new day also in convenience of control—in smooth performance—and in the safety of its Vacuum-Power Brakes. May we suggest that you ride in the 1934 Buick at your earliest convenience—and prove to yourself that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.

From the tables of famous families came these gorgeous pieces of silver. Cherished through prosperous years and held onto grimly during lean ones, these magnificent pieces have been handed down through many generations. ## "Furs by JAECKEL"

—there is real excitement in the phrase—it means originality, beauty, distinction and above all quality. Typical of the Jaeckel leadership in furs is the fur cape first introduced by Jaeckel which has now become a classic fashion. ## POLO

POLO, that thrilling sport, which combines the best there is in both man and beast, is taking its place as one of the major sports in the resort from the point of view of interest it is creating among winter residents and visitors. Phipps Fields, at Gulfstream, which offers playing fields among the best in the world, are the scene of outstanding matches three times a week, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with nationally known mallet wielders in action astride some of the world's best specimens of polo pony.

Some of the outstanding polo players in the country appear in these matches at Gulfstream. Winston Guest, member of the American team which defeated the invading English team two years ago, has lately arrived in the resort and is taking part in spirited matches.

Steven Farrish, hard riding Texan, who suffered a bad spill about a fortnight ago, is back in the lineup and offers determined opposition to his opponents.

Members of the famous Phipps family team which includes John S. Phipps, Hubert Phipps, H. C. Phipps, and Michael Phipps, the latter former captain of the Yale team who played in whirlwind games against South American teams last year, are all seen in matches on the fields this family created for this marvelous gentleman's sport.

Stephen, "Laddie," Sanford, also a nationally known polo player, has been playing in matches in Phipps Fields, but recently left for the Pacific coast to engage in play and is expected to return early in March.

Members of the Preece family team are also seen frequently in play at Phipps Fields, including Godfrey Preece, senior member, and noted authority on polo ponies, Stewart and Terence Preece, both formidable opponents on any polo field.

George Atwell, Jr., Townsend Bradley Martin, C. B. Wrightsman and Ivor Balding are also seen frequently in play.

Many members of the resort colony have been driving down to Gulfstream for these tri-weekly matches.

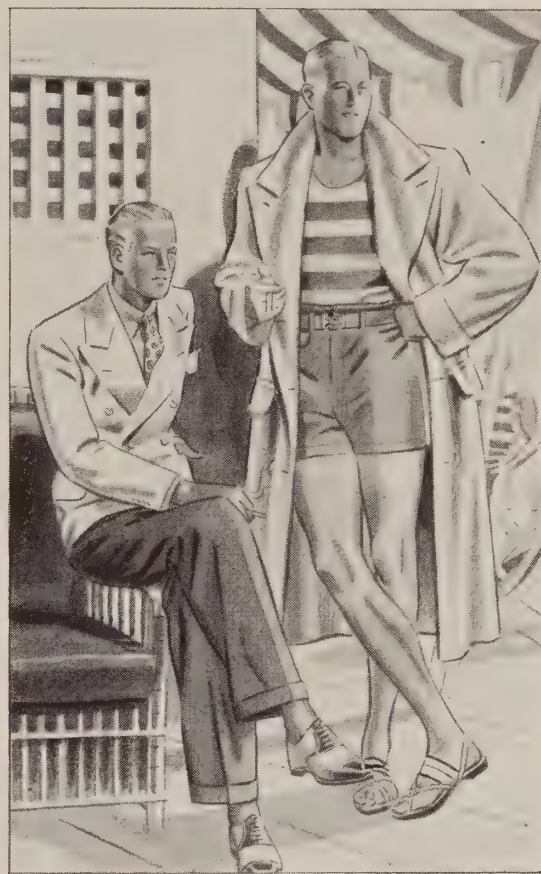

Making a final rally in the last chukker of play, the hard riding team of the Texas Wonders defeated the Palm Beach team, 14 to 7, in a spirited polo match at Phipps Fields.

The playing was nip and tuck throughout the early periods of the match but in the final period the Texas riders found their stride and clicking perfectly, swamped the Palm Beach aggregation. C. B. Wrightsman and Steve Farrish, both demon riders for the Texas team, shared scoring honors with Winston Guest doing marvelous work at number three position.

On the Texas Wonders were C. B. Wrightsman, Steven Farrish, Winston Guest and R. Bullock. Making up the Palm Beach team were Hubert Phipps, Michael Phipps, Ivor Balding and George Atwell.

Winning 11 to 7, the Reds defeated the Whites in a spirited polo match recently at Gulfstream. David McCahill and Michael Phipps, playing for the Reds, shared scoring honors with four goals each. Steve Farrish, the hard riding Texas star who suffered a bad spill in a game about two weeks ago, was back in the lineup with the Whites.

Making up the Reds were Hubert Phipps, David McCahill, Michael Phipps and George Atwell, Jr. On the White lineup were C. B. Wrightsman, Steven P. Farrish, Robert Hassler and Ivor Balding.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP OF FLORIDA

THE TOURNAMENT jinx which has followed many nationally and internationally known golfers since 1925 in their unsuccessful attempts to carry off the famous Flagler chalice trophy was broken by Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., tournament champion, when she defeated Miss Marion Miley, former Kentucky champion and medalist, in the finals of the Women's Championship of Florida, 5 and 4, to win a third leg and retain permanent possession of the gold cup. The largest gallery in the history of the tournament, estimated at 3,500 persons, followed the match.

Miss Orcutt had little trouble in disposing of the youthful Kentucky golfers, her tee shots, which averaged from 20 to 25 yards more distance than those of her 19-year-old opponent, giving her a decided edge on approach. On the greens, however, both played just average golf, missing some easy putts on a number of holes.

Miss Orcutt took the first, third, sixth and ninth holes on the out nine, her early arrival on the greens being mainly responsible for her tallies, while Miss Miley garnered one lone hole on the second, when Miss Orcutt missed a two-foot putt for a five, putting the latter three up on the turn. Not a single birdie graced either card on the out round, Miss Orcutt making a 39 and Miss Miley registering a 42. On the fifth hole, Miss Miley's ball hit a spectator on approach, bounding on to the fairway. She missed a short putt however, halve the hole.

On the 10th hole both landed in traps on opposite sides of the green. Miss Orcutt made a nice chip shot within two feet of the pin, while Miss Miley was over, the former taking it with a four on her next putt. On the 11th Miss Orcutt won the hole with a six after Miss Miley drove out of bounds on her tee shot, and took a seven to Miss Orcutt's six with short putting on the green. Miss Miley then stiffened and held Miss Orcutt even for the next three holes but it was too late and the match ended on the 14th green.

Miss Orcutt was thwarted from taking the trophy last year when she suffered defeat at the hands of Mrs. Opal S. Hicks, Kansas City shotmaker. She in turn defeated Miss Helen Hicks in 1932 to prevent the former metropolitan champion from taking the trophy for keeps. In 1931 Miss Hicks defeated Miss Virginia Van Wie, who had two legs on the trophy at that time to gain two herself, and Miss Orcutt also won over Miss Van Wie in 1930 to prevent the national champion from taking it off. The only golfer ever to win the trophy before was Mrs. Glenna Collette Vare, who took away the original cup in 1925.

In the second flight, Mrs. Lawrence Schwab of Great Neck, L. I., defeated Mrs. H. C. Kersten, Richmond, Va., 1 up. In the third flight Miss Dyoll Prather, Palm Beach, defeated Miss L. Folk, New York, 3 and 1. Mrs. Opal S. Hill defeated Miss Jane Douglas, San Gabriel, Cal., 2 and 1.

A representative field of nationally known women golfers qualified in the first flight of the Annual Women's Championship of Florida event, with Miss Marion Miley, youthful golf star from Lexington, Ky., who held the Kentucky state championship in 1932 and 1933, springing the surprise of the tournament to win the medal round with a 38-40—78.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, defending champion, who was automatically qualified for first place because of her rank and did not have to make the round, accompanied Miss Helen Hicks and also made the eighteen holes with the same score as Miss Miley, 38-40—78.

Miss Maureen Orcutt of White Beeches, N. J., winner of the Miami Biltmore event last week, and Women's Championship of Florida in 1929 and 1930, tied for second place with Miss Helen Hicks, winner of the event in 1930 and 1931, the former making 38-42—80 and the latter tallying a brace of 40's for an 80.

Strong winds hampered the golfers and prevented any spectacular scores from being made, although Miss Miley, youthful Kentucky entrant, made three birdies on the last three holes to tack up her medal score. Miss Orcutt and Miss Hicks were a bit short on their putting all the way round, the former missing a two-foot putt on the final green to spoil her chance of breaking 80.

Miss Aline de Gunzbourg, St. Cloud, France, French champion in 1933, who is adding an international aspect to the tournament, qualified with an 83, as did her partner, Miss Grace Amory, prominent member of the Palm Beach younger set. Another tournament entry from abroad was that of Miss Kathleen Garnham, French titlist, who was also automatically qualified, not having to make the medal round, and wired her arrival at Miami.

Mrs. Austin Pardue of Minneapolis, the former Dorothy Klotz, who won the tournament in 1927, was well up in the first flight, turning in a card of 41-43—84. Miss Jane Douglas, of San Gabriel, Cal., qualified with Miss Orcutt to make the round with a 42-42—84.

Mrs. H. C. Sterrett, Hutchinson, Kans., who figured in former tournament play in this event, was right behind Miss Douglas, with a 41-44—85, and Miss Mary Rogers of Jacksonville, Fla., state champion, figured in the first flight with a 46-41—97.

Miss Audrey Phipps, another prominent young member of the resort colony, qualified in the first flight with a 49-42—91.

Y., 57-55—112; Mrs. Chester Williams, Nutley, N. J., 55-57—112; Mrs. Martin Sweeney, New York, 57-55—112; Mrs. G. N. Kerr, Springfield, Mass., 58-56—114.

An upset of major proportions occurred in the initial day of match play in the annual Florida Women's Championship event at the Palm Beach Country Club when Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, defending champion, was eliminated by Mrs. Dorothy Klotz Pardue of Minneapolis, tournament winner in 1927 and former midwestern champion, in a tight match that went twenty-three holes.

Remaining even at the end of the eighteen-hole round after Mrs. Hill failed to negotiate a short putt, they played five more holes before Mrs. Pardue's par four won her the match.

Another thrill was provided the gallery when Mrs. H. C. Sterrett, steady golfer from Hutchinson, Kans., had to play Miss Jane Douglas, San Gabriel, Cal., twenty-two holes in a close match to defeat the Pacific coast shotmaker with a long putt to take a par 3 on the final hole.

Other tournament favorites came through the opening round but brisk winds hampered the players from making more than average scores, low 40's predominating in the first nine holes. Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., and Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlitt, L. I., each holding two legs on the famous Flagler chalice trophy, had easy rounds. Miss Orcutt defeated Mrs. William Ferris, Boston, 6 and 5, while Miss Hicks defeated Miss Katherine Bragaw, Orange, N. J., 2 and 1.

Miss Kathleen Garnham of England, French champion, defeated Audrey Phipps, Piping Rock, L. I., and Palm Beach, by 3 and 2 margin and Miss Aline de Gunzburg, another international star and former French champion of St. Cloud, France, defeated Miss Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., 2 and 1.

Miss Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., former Kentucky champion, and winner of the medal round, defeated Miss Mary C. Rogers, Jacksonville, Fla., Florida State Champion, 4 and 3. Miss Grace Amory, Deep Dale, L. I., and prominent Palm Beach golfer, played steady golf to defeat Mrs. Charles Harbaugh, Cleveland, 4 and 3.

The international aspect of the annual Florida Women's Championship being played at the Palm Beach Country Club, faded in the quarter-finals round when Miss Kathleen Garnham, of England, French titleholder, was defeated by Miss Grace Amory, of Deepdale, L. I., youthful member of resort society, 4 and 3, and Miss de Gunzburg, of St. Cloud, France, former French champion, was vanquished by Miss Marion Miley, 19-year-old medalist and former Kentucky state champion, 6 and 5.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., and Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlitt, L. I., tournament favorites, and each holding two legs on the Florida chalice trophy, appeared destined to meet in Friday's finals once again, barring upsets, when they both staged easy wins in their matches. Miss Orcutt eliminated Mrs. H. C. Sterrett, Hutchinson, Kans., 6 and 4, the latter conceding the twelfth and thirteenth holes, sinking two balls in the water hazard on the twelfth and making a 6 on the fourteenth to lose the match.

Miss Hicks shot the best nine of the day, a 36, to spoil the tournament chances of Mrs. Austin Pardue, Minneapolis, defeating her 3 and 2, although the latter was but one stroke behind on the out nine with a 37. Miss Hicks jumped a stymie on the sixteenth, a beautiful shot, to clinch the match with a 4.

Miss Marion Miley, 10-year-old golf star from Lexington, Ky., and medalist in the Annual Women's Championship of Florida event, registered a spectacular defeat over Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlitt, L. I., tournament veteran in the semi-finals, winning 1 up on the 18th green.

By winning, she spoiled the former Metropolitan champion's chances to gain a third leg on the famous Flogler chalice trophy.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, tournament favorite, who also holds two legs on the trophy, came through with a win over Miss Grace Amory, Deepdale, L. I., by the score of 4 and 2 after the latter held her even through the first nine.

In the second flight, Mrs. Lawrence Schwab, Great Neck, L. I., defeated Miss Lucille Parsons, West Orange, N. J., 2 and 1, and Mrs. H. C. Kersten, Richmond, Va., defeated Mrs. J. J. Lese, Oak Ridge, N. Y., 2 and 1.

In the third flight, Miss L. Folk, New York, defeated Mrs. T. D. Mallory, New York, 2 and 1, and Miss Dyoll Pratheer, Palm Beach, defeated Miss Fay McCubbin, 1 up.

In the consolation flight Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, defeated Miss Mary C. Rogers, Jacksonville, 4 and 2, and Miss Jane Douglas, San Gabriel, Cal., defeated Miss Audrey Phipps, Piping Rock, L. I., 2 and 1.

RESORT REGATTAS

DEVOTEES of sail racing, one of the most picturesque sports in the world, had the pleasure of viewing more than 50 of these graceful craft in the Annual Winter Sailing Regatta held Sunday over the triangular course in the calm waters of Lake Worth, which was held under the auspices of the Palm Beach Yacht club and the Florida East Coast Yachting Associations.

Sportsmen from yacht clubs all along the East Coast participated in the event, and included many youthful entries of boys and girls of school age, who handled their small craft with all the skill of seasoned mariners.

Ten events, including the Moth, Snipe, Cricket and Suicide classes, as well as other craft with larger sail areas, spread their wings and cut their way over the triangular course with occasionally an upset or two when the skipper failed to put her "hard over," to come up into the wind.

Rivalry was keen and a number of entrants sprung surprises in the form of fast boats, constructed secretly, with certain little changes in the hull and hang of sail to give them an edge, but not radical enough to bar them from their classes.

The first event got under way at 9 o'clock in the morning and the afternoon schedule was set at 1:30 o'clock. Members of the Florida East Coast Yachting Association, which sponsored the event along with the local Palm Beach Yacht Club, included the Daytona Beach Sailing Club, Daytona Beach, Indian River Yacht Club, Rockledge; Florida Yacht Club, Jacksonville; Stuart Sailing Club, Stuart; Melbourne Yacht Racing Club, Melbourne; Fort Pierce Yacht Club, Fort Pierce; Palm Beach Yacht Club, West Palm Beach, and the Southern Florida Boat Racing Association, Miami.

These events supplanted the usual Washington's Birthday Regatta, due to the fact that power boat entries have already been made in the First Annual International Power Boat Races to be held at New Smyrna, March 3 and 4, at Palm Beach, March 10 and 11, and at Miami, March 16 and 18.

Representatives of five foreign countries, including a prince, two dukes, a marquis, and two counts and a baron, will be entered in the above mentioned races to be held in Florida during March.

These events, which are attracting world-wide interest, will be held over the three Florida courses, of which the Lake Worth course at Palm Beach will be one.

A new class of boats known as the 1 2litre class, which has never been seen before in this country, will put on a series of thrilling races over the Palm Beach course in an effort to establish new records, with crack foreign drivers piloting them.

Among the foreign entries are the following: Outboards, Sprin—Don Jose Luis de Galdiz and Don Miguel Barella; France—Jean Dupuy, captain, Marquis Gonzalo de la Gandara, Baron Alain de Rothschild, Guy Pauchet and Duke Michel de Elchingen; Hungary—Francis Lukavec; Italy—Count Carlo Casalini; England—C. J. Turner and Edward Treglown. Those entering in the 12 litre races are: Italy—Duke of Spoleto, captain, Prince Carlo Maurizio Ruspoli, Count Theo. Rossi de oMntelera and Signor Guido Gattaneo; Sweden—Olaf Oldenberg.

Several American gold-cup boats which by the use of a super-charger may be listed as 12 litre boats may enter in the races. Tentative American entries in this event are: Victor Kliesrath, South Bend, Ind.; John Rutherford, Palm Beach, Fla.; John Shibe, Philadelphia; George Reis, Lake George, N. Y., and others.

TOURNAMENT TENNIS

MUCH INTEREST continues to be shown in tennis in the resort with round-robin tournaments being held at both the Everglades Club and the Poinciana courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club. Of especial interest is the second annual Everglades Club Invitational Tennis Tournament which is being played this week on the five splendid clay courts. Competition is being held in men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles for handsome silver trophies, with many noted resort amateurs participating.

A large group of Palm Beach society folk watched the first inter-city round-robin matches played on a recent Sunday afternoon at the Everglades Club with the Palm Beach Everglades Club teams defeating the Miami Beach Surf Club teams by the close score of 104 games to 96.

Five doubles teams from each resort participated and some excellent tennis was exhibited on the courts. High scorers for the Everglades Club teams were Richard Harris and William Demuth who won twenty-seven games and lost thirteen. Harry Moreland and Herman Peterson had the high tally for the Surf Club teams winning twenty-one games and losing nineteen.

At the close of the round-robin matches Hans Nusslein, world's professional tennis champion who participated in the round-robin play for the Everglades Club, teamed with Arthur Rudolph, well known resort professional, played a whirlwind three-set match against Karel Kozeluh, internationally known professional net star, and Herman Peterson, both of the Surf Club, losing the first set 3-6, and winning the others 6-2 and 7-5.

This exhibition had many thrilling moments with players demonstrating the art of tennis as it should be played. Nusslein worked short cross-court shots with uncanny accuracy while Kozeluh had a lightning return and covered the court with marvelous speed.

Summary of the round-robin match as follows:

Eleven teams made up of prominent resort players took part.

The team of Rudy Noble and Arthur Rudolph, both well known resort professionals, took second place winning twenty-eight games and losing twelve. Robert Murray, southern professional champion, and Charles Harris, well known local player, drew third place, winning twenty-seven games and losing thirteen.

Fleeting showers hampered the players but they waited them out between rounds and finished a most interesting afternoon of play. The team of Noble and Rudolph staged the only win over the formidable team of Guest and Nusslein, taking the set 3-1.

The team of Guest and Nusslein defeated Robert Murray and Richard Harris, 4-0; John Cardegna and Sydney Smith, 3-1; lost to Rudy Noble and Arthur Rudolph, 1-3; defeated Alfred G. Kay and William Demuth, 4-0; George Agutter and Richard Harris, 3-1; Townsend B. Martin and James Kenny, 4-0; Jack Ohlhaber and W. R. Hahn, 4-0; T. T. Oughterson and H. Sheppard, 4-0; R. R. ## TASTES AND TOILETTES

OTTON, so long the Cinderella of the Textile sisters, not only goes to the ball all by herself nowadays but also in the guise of her haughty sisters, Silk and Wool. A little flirting with the Acetates, and Cotton learns how to look and act like Silk, and those new Looms have taught the little sister all of the smart tricks of Wool. So the new cottons seem to have all the visible virtues and none of the hidden vices of the other materials. The new cotton-silks are shown in wide and narrow ribs and woven checks, and with deep, mossy surfaces with a fascinating texture, and the cotton-woolens come in tweedy effects that are nothing short of marvelous and in hit-or-miss combinations that resemble nothing so much as the colorful rag carpets that cover the floors of mountaineers' cabins all along the Appalachian chain and way up into the Catskills.

* * * *

Miss Mary Crowley wore at a recent meeting of the Current Events course a rather broad-brimmed hat of this new cotton material with a hand bag to match, in a mixture of green, white, pink and brown, with a frock of almond green silk.

* * * *

Miss Antoinette Johnson, attractive daughter of Mr. Frederick Johnson, attended the Artists' and Writers' Banquet wearing a gown of Nile green chiffon with softly trained skirt. The waist was high in front with low backed square décolletage and the shoulder straps and belt were wide bands of silver sequins.

* * * *

Miss Elise Plankinton, who returned recently from a trip around the world, wore printed chiffon to the Colony Club, with a midnight blue figure against a scarlet background and fashioned on long, clinging lines.

* * * *

Mrs. Frederick Johnson, who paints under the name of Mary MacKinnon, chose a severely cut black evening gown of dull crepe to the Artists' and Writers' Banquet with which she wore a short evening cape of rose colored velvet.

* * * *

Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle of Amado attended the Tombola wearing a white wool hand-knit sweater with navy blue skirt of imported wool. The sweater had long tight sleeves and the neck was set off by an Ascot tie of navy with white polka dots. A white sailor hat with a matching blue band, and white sport slippers and ankle socks were other interesting details.

* * * *

Mrs. Thomas R. Cowell was noted at the dog show at the Tombola in a smart knitted sports suit of mustard yellow. With the two-piece skirt and cardigan was worn a tweed-knit yellow sweater in which several bright colors were interwoven. Matching yellow silk soft brimmed hat, kid slippers and hose completed the ensemble.

* * * *

Mrs. William E. Calder of Brooklyn, a guest at The Breakers, recently appeared in an exquisite gown of dull gold lace shot with bronze threads. Shoulder straps of twisted gold and bronze, a matching belt and a shirred dropped shoulder ruffle were details of her costume.

* * * *

Miss Jane Douglas of Berkeley Hills, Cal., well known golfer, whose blond beauty attracted admiring glances, wore the other evening a stunning black and white gown. The top of white sheer organdie was embroidered in white and the neckline and cuffs were edged with pleated ruffling.

* * * *

Mrs. William W. Forrester of Chicago who was a dinner hostess at the Colony Club the other night wore a beautiful Georgia peach ripple satin gown fashioned on simple lines with a deep cowl at the front and a V décolletage. The long sleeved accompanying jacket was banded with sable.

* * * *

Baroness de la Grange of Paris danced at The Breakers recently wearing a distinctive frock of black and white cross bar organza with a wide cerise velvet girdle with long ties, and red sandals.

* * * *

Miss Marion Shevlin of New York looked stunning at The Breakers attired in a beautiful white pebble satin, smartly cut with wide cartridge pleats decorating the shoulder ending at the very low square cut back.

* * * *

Mrs. Reed Albee of the South Ocean Boulevard was noted at the Colony Club wearing a stunning gown of dull lime green crepe. A long scarf of emerald green coq feathers tied in a knot at the shoulder and dropped to the hem line. Emerald buckle and clips were detailed of her costume.

* * * *

Miss Eleanor Sommers of Saratoga Springs looks very lovely in a triple sheer pansy blue crepe with a wide round collar of silver metal cloth which crossed in the back and tied in front with a lovely blue and silver buckle.

* * * *

Another lovely frock was worn by Miss Lois Moran, petite musical comedy star. Made of red and white cross bar mousseline de soie rows of tiny ruffles trimmed the skirt and a capelet of the same ruffles added airiness to the frock.

* * * *

Miss Margaret Giblin of New York and London wears a gown of gold lame with a high neckline at the front and a low square décolletage at the back. An accompanying jacket is lavishly trimmed with sable. Her guest, Miss Lena Chisholm of London, wears a beautiful frock of black velvet with a sheathlike skirt ending in a tiny train, a backless top and long clinging sleeves.

* * * *

Mrs. Karl W. Corby of Washington and The Breakers, appeared the other night in a smart tunic gown of pansy blue chiffon velvet with a wide silver lame belt and an interesting treatment of the silver at the neckline.

Curls, sweeping upward to give the new coronet effect in coronet fashion across the head, are the highlights of this new coiffure, by J. Schaeffer.

Smart members of the Palm Beach colony never "dress up," even for cocktails. They wear knitted pajamas and carry beach bags filled with the necessary accessories. Bergdorf Goodman, New York, shows these pajamas with a large straw hat and their exclusive bathing bag in unbleached muslin with zipper top. The sandals are hand-crocheted with wooden heels and cork soles.

"Muddy" pastels are smart for resort clothes now, and it is predicted that they will be important this coming summer. With this dress of rather dark yellow crepe a large white picture hat, white gloves, and effective white kid sandals are worn.

GARDEN CLUB AND FLOWER SHOW PLANS

THE ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW of the Garden Club of Palm Beach has grown in the last five years from an unpretentious event of local interest to a show of such originality and widespread fame that it serves as a model for flower shows and attracts garden club members from all over the country. This year the sixth annual Flower Show will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week in the circular conservatory of the Royal Poinciana Hotel and coincident with its showing the annual convention of the Garden Club of America will be held at Whitehall.

Nearly 150 presidents and delegates of the units of the Garden Club of America will come to the resort and an elaborate program has been prepared for their entertainment. From the time the special Florida East Coast train carrying the distinguished group, including Mrs. Jonathan Buckley, president of the National organization and other officers, arrives at the Poinciana station early Friday afternoon, February 23, and the distinguished visitors are met by the reception committee of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, until they board the train for their return home, every minute not occupied by convention business will be filled with social activities.

After a wheelchair ride to Whitehall, convention headquarters, the visitors will visit the Flower Show in the Poinciana Conservatory and will be guests of the Palm Beach Garden Club at tea. In the evening presidents and delegates will be guests of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury at the magnificent Stotesbury estate, El Mirasol.

On Saturday morning, February 24, the horticulture committee of the Garden Club of America will meet at Whitehall at nine o'clock, and at ten the president's council will gather in session. At one o'clock members of the Garden Club of Palm Beach and visitors will attend a luncheon given by Mrs. Henry R. Rea at Lagomar. This luncheon is given annually at the time of the Flower Show by Mrs. Rea, vice-president of the Garden Club, whose gardens are among the most beautiful in the resort. An afternoon visit to the Flower Show will be followed by a garden tour of six of the outstanding gardens in the northern part of the resort.

Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer will receive the visitors at her villa Capricho, at 8:15 on Saturday evening, and later they will attend a dinner at the Everglades Club given in their honor by the Garden Club of Palm Beach.

Social activities of Sunday, February 24, will begin with an early morning tour of estate gardens in the southern part of the resort starting at 9:30, and at 12:30 the presidents and delegates will gather at the Bath and Tennis Club before going to a luncheon given for them by Mrs. Alfred G. Kay at Casa Ananda. After the luncheon, the group will visit the experiment station and several gardens on private estates, and then will motor to Gulfstream to the noted Phipps polo field. At 3:30 Mrs. Charles Miles of Tampa, noted authority on Florida flora will address the assemblage at the home of Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers at Pelican Point. Later Mrs. John F. Harris, Mrs. Edward Shearson and Mrs. William G. Warden, members of the entertainment committee of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, will be hostesses at a tea at the Gulf Stream Golf Club. There will be a number of small dinners for the visitors on Sunday with various members entertaining small groups, and at ten o'clock the entire company will be guests of Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, president of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, at a musicale at her charming home, Casa Alejandro in Vita Serena.

The Flower Show will be a center of attractions for the visiting presidents and delegates of the Garden Club of America, and it is indicated that this year's presentation will surpass all former shows in beauty and originality of design. Planting and foundation work are entirely completed and exhibits are already being placed. Among the notable exhibits planned is Mrs. Edward F. Hutton's ancient Japanese garden which she planned before leaving last year, and which will occupy a large plot in the west wing of the slathouse. Every stone and every lantern in this historic reproduction will contain a meaning of its own, backed by centuries of Nipponese tradition. The stones and the blooming plants in this garden will be shipped from Mrs. Hutton's northern estate in the care of her Roslyn gardener.

Mr. Hugh Dillman's garden in the same section of the slathouse will have a plantation manse with an old-fashioned southern garden. Mrs. John S. Phipps' garden motif will be Spanish, with Spanish grill work and walls. These three large gardens will occupy the space in the west wing not allotted to the Piazza di Spagna. The Piazza is under the supervision of Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch and Mr. William Johnson.

The east wing of the slathouse will be the scene of two large gardens and a number of smaller ones. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest's garden will occupy a 20x30 space in the center of the wing, just beyond the entrance. This plot will feature a formal garden, with paths leading through the planting up to a high fountain of white marble.

Along the north side of the east wing of the slathouse will be planted a number of smaller gardens, all based upon carefully chosen themes. Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse and Mrs. Clifford V. Brokaw each will plant economy gardens; Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley and Mrs. Horace H. Work are planning together a tropically planted arbor; Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers has chosen a garden which will feature wild tropical native plants exclusively, and Mr.

Henry C. Phipps will have a garden of grafted gardenias and palms.

Just west of Mrs. Guest's garden will be Mrs. E. F. Hutton's small fern garden, containing many rare specimens. The small alcoves at the entrance of the slathouse will be the scenes of Mrs. J. P. Donahue's colorful arrangement of tropical plants and flowers and the Willow Oak Nurseries' azalea garden. The extreme southern wall and benches will be occupied again this year by cut flowers and flowering potted plants.

Table arrangements will again be an important feature and these classes will be held in the conservatory rooms on the second floor of the north wing of the Royal Poinciana. Fete tables, arranged for holidays and anniversaries, will be under the direction of Mrs. Frederick S. Wheeler, assisted by Mrs. Adam G. Thomson and Mrs. Joseph H. Cudahy.

A new class in this year's show is "composition against a wall or window", of which Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers is chairman, which will vie in interest with the shadow boxes, large and miniature, which have been featured for several years.

THE ROMANY CHORUS

By MARGARET C. DOBYNE

TO THOSE who have been residents of Palm Beach for the last six years, the Romany Chorus is well known, as they have most liberally supported and encouraged it. To the new-comers in our midst, perhaps a word of explanation would be interesting as to just who and what the singing Romanies are.

They are a group of young people who live in Florida the year round, and whose love for music became an articulate voice when Mr. John Charles Thomas, "Romany Tom" to them, heard them six years ago. He held two days of audition for any and all of them at the home of Mrs. George A. Dobyne. Twenty-five were selected and the nucleus of the Romany Tribe was formed. Mr. Freund was made leader; the Romany costume was adopted as being most fitted for color and gaiety and for the wide range of Gypsy music, also for the principles of Romany which has held together and increased this Romany Tribe. The Romany Tads—youngsters of from three to twelve years of age and either children or close relatives of the Romanies, will appear this year and their role promises to be one of the highlights of the show.

Their motto, "one for all and all for the Romanies," is literally true of them. This has been proven over and over in their lack of jealousy among themselves and their delight in the progress of individual members, many of whom, through their training in Romany circles, have been able to advance rapidly in their chosen world of music.

From the first year when the Romanies sang their songs from a Gypsy wagon with Mr. John Charles Thomas and Madam Louise Homer, through their first camp in Phipps Plaza to their wonderful performance of "Pagliacci" and "Road to Vienna" at the Everglades Club, last year's "Old Madrid" at Whitehall, and this year's Romany Revels, to be given at Whitehall on Washington's birthday, they have endeavored to bring forth the glory of their own young voices. Each year they have brought to Palm Beach a "new voice," starting as they did with Ernesto Dodds, the Argentine baritone; Edward Jardon, Robert Wiedefeld, and Ernest Charles.

This year it is to be Imhoff and the Romanies await with interest Palm Beach's decision as to their judgment of a voice. Also this year they bring into their performance for the first time one of the world's greatest comedians, Mr. Albert Trahan and his wife, the lovely Yukona Cameron, celebrated in this country and justly famous abroad where they have appeared in many "command performances" for the Royalties of Europe, the last of which was the most notable—performing before Their Majesties, King George and Queen Mary of England.

Artists who have attended the Romany rehearsals and have heard the Romanies sing remark at the ease with which they adapt themselves to their new songs and skits. Each year they have endeavored to be finer than the last. This year they feel that they have reached their peak in "Romany Revels." The scene is a Romany Camp near the Fair at Budapest, complete in all its details, the scale model being by Mr. Reynolds Clarke, formerly associated with Mr. Addison Mizner. Mr. Clarke is also responsible for the beautiful posters displayed. The Romanies are deeply indebted to him and to Mr. and Mrs. Trahan.

SHOPPERS' PARADISE

ALTHOUGH HAVANA undoubtedly offers "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" it presents as well to myriads of its happy visitors the world's most interesting and diverse shopping center, a market of the earth's treasures where a bargain is more often yours for the argument than not. Paris may have its Rue de la Paix, New York its Broadway and Berlin its famed Unter den Linden, but Havana's treasure shops may be found in every quarter of its unique confines to delight the buyer of 10,000 varied objects to delight the visitor.

It is in Havana that one finds the choicest perfumes of France, the shawls and mantons of Spain, the novelties of Italy and Germany, the carvings of the East and the finest jewels in the universe. Shops are crammed with the smartest known creations for women, the newest clothing fashions of Bond Street for men and the costumes of France for children than which there are no finer to be had.

Perhaps most interesting and, consequently, most appealing to Americans are those shops in the narrow streets of that section of the city which once formed the original Havana around which Spain built a protecting wall. No definite scale of prices restrict the buyer here. Nor will the shopper fail to find that which he seeks. Fabulous quantities of stocks are available and at prices which cannot be duplicated in the United States.

Antiques of any period, ancient jewels, rare old furnishings and old silver make up the bulk of the stock but yet one probably can find the most unexpected treasures in those shops where the unusual is the rule rather than the exception.

And while many of the shops cater to the shopper in search of such rare objects, downtown Havana makes a definite appeal to the visitor in search of the most modern and up-to-date merchandise to be had. Not only do they display in ample quantity the newest Parisian gown creations but they carry, as well, the most pretentious stock of imported materials available. These naturally include dress goods of every European nation.

Men will find the smartest shirtings from London and Paris as well as the latest novelties of New York.

Cuban war clouds are fading away into the past from the sunny tropical isle symbolized by ancient Morro Castle, the "Statue of Liberty" of Havana Harbor, familiar to thousands of American tourists. The prisons of the castle were in active use again during the political troubles of last year, which now, officials believe, are a thing of the past.

The world cruise at The Patio is progressing port by port, and each Wednesday night a jolly throng gathers in the pleasant surroundings to go ashore at the scheduled port of call for the evening. Last week the voyagers stopped at New Orleans to attend a Mardi Gras celebration. Special decorations turned The Patio into a bit of old Canal Street in the famous Louisiana city and King Rex, Momus and Neptune were the trinity that guided the fun. Deslys and Clark entertained with appropriate songs and a background of carnival music was played by Mort Dennis and his Versatile Society Orchestra. Caps and bells, noisemakers, serpentines and confetti added to the authentic atmosphere. The largest throng of the season attended.

Among interesting parties at The Patio was the luncheon given by Prince George of Russia for Prince Paul of Greece, now visiting in the resort. Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Jaeckel of New York and Southampton, L. I., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Merrill at their villa, gave a dinner for twenty-two guests.

Mrs. Horace E. Dodge II gave a farewell dinner for her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Prinsep, Mr. and Mrs. Stanhope Joel, and Mrs. Celia Neilson, before their return to their homes in England. Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Stehli, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Singer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corcoran, and many others also entertained.

"We Cannot Tell a Lie"

NO—not even a white lie. We always tell the truth, although sometimes it may be to our own disadvantage in the dollar and cents column.

ONCE upon a time, LIVINGSTONS of Madison Avenue, New York, opened a shop at the Beaux Arts Building in Palm Beach, primarily to make so-called contacts for their New York shop. They presented a charming collection of wearables at sensible prices. If a thing looked a la Chanel but was domestic they said so; if a frock wouldn't launder they said so; if a gown was unbecoming they said so. They have strived to please and sales have far exceeded their fondest expectations.

MORAL: "Always tell the truth . . . ."

You Love Being Lazy on a Holiday?

So many women reach their Southern destinations exhausted from the journey and the fatiguing activities which preceded it. And all they want to do for days and days is...lie in the sun.

Elizabeth Arden understands this wonderful kind of lethargy and thinks it a fine idea. With one important provision...the faithful application of Ardena Sunpruf Cream to your face, back, shoulders, arms...every part of you that is exposed to the sun. Elizabeth Arden's Sunpruf Cream separates the beneficial rays from the harmful ones, and only admits the healthful, tanning rays. It is a vanishing type of preparation simple to apply, and invaluable in its results. It will absolutely prevent sunburn...yet enable you to tan evenly.

It is wise, also, to have an occasional Face Treatment at the Elizabeth Arden Salon to preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin. For an appointment please telephone Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

One Reason for Your Good Health!

An Adequate Supply of Pure Water

As an accommodation to patrons arriving in town during the hours that our office is closed (Saturday after 12 noon, Sundays, Holidays and between the hours of 5 P. M. and 8 A. M.) the order will receive prompt attention if phoned to our Pumping Station. Telephone number 4732.

Purity of water is essential to community health and the maintenance of a constant adequate supply of pure water is a task of no mean proportion. Water furnished consumers through the mains of the West Palm Beach Water Company is as pure as it is humanly possible to make it. There is a constant, never-ending effort to keep it so. How successful this utility has been in the task is evidenced in the reports of the city health officer, the Florida State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service. Each of these three health-guarding agencies check samples of West Palm Beach Water Company water at regular intervals.

*This new era of gracious living

Men and women are living splendidly once more . . . seeking the tasteful and the beautiful in all things . . . and, naturally, this new era of gracious living suggests the ownership of a gracious motor car. We give you Buick for 1934 as the car which mirrors this new mode of life. It is beautiful, with the tasteful beauty you expect of Buick. Its new Bodies by Fisher are spacious . . . luxuriously appointed . . . and comfortable in the extreme. To ride in it is to know relaxed ease such as you have never known before . . . because Buick alone combines Knee-Action Wheels, Balanced Weight and Springing, The Ride Stabilizer and Air Cushion Tires—the four factors which produce the gliding ride as Buick gives it. It is attuned to this new day also in convenience of control—in smooth performance—and in the safety of its Vacuum-Power Brakes. May we suggest that you ride in the 1934 Buick at your earliest convenience—and prove to yourself that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.

This priceless rug tells the story of a civilization that is past. Caught by the hand of a genius, held by silken threads in glorious tones of rose, aquamarine, and gold you have in this precious rug of old Persian silk the romantic history of an ancient world. Once a prized possession of a connoisseur, now on sale at a price that does not begin to equal in any way its great value.

More precious than rubies...

And even more glorious in coloring is this luxurious Persian carpet. Valued by Oriental potentates as worth more than precious stones, this work of extraordinary beauty has been guarded jealously by its owner. Now the pressure of economic necessity makes it imperative to sell this rug, and it will be released at a price that is unbelievably low. Here is a bargain for the person who appreciates objects that are rich in tradition.

Elizabeth Arden's

Leg Make-up figures so importantly in the southern scene

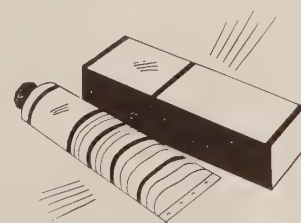

Shorts for tennis, for bicycling, for the beach, for sailing...in short, shorts for everything but dancing!

And that is where Elizabeth Arden's famous leg make-up comes in. Naturally your legs must present a well-groomed appearance since they will be so continuously visible. They must be smooth, free of blemishes, a nice even color...a state best achieved by the use of Miss Arden's famous Velva Beauty Film.

While for evening...! A certain glamorous star, Marilyn Miller, in the new Music Box Review, "As Thousands Cheer," dances in a lovely glowing shade of Velva Beauty Film, which is the most enchanting thing you ever saw under the electric lights!

This velvety finish for the legs comes in paste form, in a tube. It created such a sensation when it was introduced last season that the smart women who discovered it continued to use it throughout the year under their gossamer stockings! And now that the resort season is back again, Velva Beauty Film is as indispensable to your wardrobe as...shorts!

It comes in four shades: Eggshell, Suntan, Evening and Dark. Tube, $1.25.

● Elizabeth Arden's Sun-Pruf Cream is an invaluable accessory to your life in the sun. It absolutely prevents sunburn. Applied lightly, it enables you to achieve a rich, uniform tan. Applied lavishly, it preserves the natural color of your skin. It is very popular with women, children and men (it is marvelous for bald heads!)

The* LINCOLN

EVEN the man or woman who leaves everything about the car to the chauffeur knows that the heart of a motor car is its engine. Beneath the hood of every new Lincoln is a V-12 cylinder engine which develops 150 horsepower. Lincoln engineers declare it the finest they have yet designed. Its perfection results from extended research, long experience. . . . The Lincoln is not an automobile which can be built hurriedly, or sold cheaply. But the Lincoln will serve you handsomely. This is a luxurious car, a safe car, a car that will leave you refreshed at the end of journeys longer than you are used to making. And it is a car easy to keep in condition, as many who own two, three or five Lincolns will attest. . . . Faster acceleration. Improved braking mechanism. New clear-vision ventilation system. Two wheelbase lengths, in standard and custom-built body types. From $3200, at Detroit.

YACHTMAN'S PARADISE

By BRADFORD BURNHAM

TO A CONSTANTLY increasing number of yachtsmen, winter no longer means a period of melancholy hibernation. From the birds many an enthusiastic Corinthian has learned the lesson of flying southward with the sun when winter rings the curfew in the North. And with the wise birds who sing so sweetly in our palm trees they seldom fail to drop another in the inviting juniper-tinted waters of Lake Worth.

Although many owners of pleasure craft maintain boats both in the North and in the South, while others charter a boat for southern use, the recent Government improvements of the famous Inside Route make the cruise down the Coast in protected waters of adequate depth a swift and merry jount for the yachtsmand and his guests. Each season find an increasing number of prominent members of the Palm Beach colony bringing or sending their boats to the resort, and spending many hours afloat in genuine relaxation—cruising, fishing, entertaining.

For where can one find more complete freedom from the "cares that infest the day," whether business or social, than aboard a boat? That moment you up anchor or cast off from the pier you are in another world, a world of your own, with scenes and friends of your own choosing, divorced from the interruptions of the telephone, of unwelcome callers, of dress and routine. Yours to command is time and place. You may elect a day's fishing in the purple Gulf Stream, a few hours' run up the beach and back with a pause for a refreshing swim, or an ambitious cruise to Nassau and beyond if the type of craft permits. In any event, the pure salt air is a refreshing tonic and brings a speedy return of healthful energy to the vacationist seeking needed change and recreation.

For those who prefer greater speed the waters of Palm Beach and vicinity offer abundant opportunities. The unobstructed surface of Lake Worth, smooth and free from strong currents, is the favorite southern rendezvous for the high speed runabout and racing craft, as well as the express cruiser and even for the erstwhile noisy outboard, now largely silenced by improved mufflers and underwater exhausts—practical little craft for kids of six or sixty, which take you there and bring you back in less time than you can imagine it. Many a golfer at Palm Beach uses his marine runabout for commuting to the course and back, and finds he can make the run in this manner as quickly and with more thrilling pleasure than is possible by automobile ashore.

As for the devotees of sailing craft, they, too, have found hospitable Lake Worth ideal for one design racing. "Moths," "snipes" and "star" class boats are popular, particularly with the younger set including girls and boys, who find the almost constant breezes provide plenty of excitement in the triangular brushes arranged for by the committee, or the impromptu races that afford many a thrill and sometimes a harmless spill or two.

The annual Regattas bring to our waters many prominent racing craft of boat, said and power. Among the latter this year will be a number of the fastest boats of this country and abroad. The regatta is ably conducted and sponsored by the national organization in charge of the sport and is held under the auspices of the Palm Beach Yacht Club.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

THE HEIGHT of the season finds one of the largest assemblages in years at the resort enjoying a social calendar crammed with interesting diversions. Last week's high lights included "Palm Beach Knights, 1934 Edition" at the Colony Club and "Romany Revels" at Whitehall, both attended by a capacity crowd of fashionable winter residents and visitors. Almost two hundred presidents and delegates attended the Ninth Annual Flower Show in the Poinciana Conservatory and were honor guests at a series of parties given by members of the Garden Club of Palm Beach. The series opened with an elaborate dinner by Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury on Friday at El Mirasol and included a tea by Mrs. Henry R. Rea at Lagomar, a reception by Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer at Capricho, a luncheon by Mrs. Alfred G. Kay at Casa Ananda and a musicale by Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock at Casa Alejandro.

The visit of Major General the Earl of Athlone and his wife, H. R. H. Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, with the Hon. Sir Bede E. H. Clifford, Governor General of the Bahamas, and Lady Clifford, was marked by a five-day series of impressive social events at which they were guests of honor. The governor's aides, Capt. Charles Houston-Boswell and Capt. R. Minto Wilson, participated in the festivities which included two dinners by Mr. Joseph E. Widener, their Palm Beach host; a dinner by Dr. and Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice and luncheon by Grand Duke Dmitri and Princess Ilyinsky and by Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury. Climaxing these brilliant affairs was the dinner given by Mr. Widener on Tuesday evening at Il Palmetto, his ocean front home. Dinner was served, buffet style, in the large ocean front living room at small tables arranged in a circle and the guests danced in the space in the center. A twelve-piece orchestra under the direction of Irving Rose played for dancing. The Earl was especially pleased with their rendition of "Blue Danube Waltz," his favorite melody, and asked for an encore.

In addition to the English visitors who were honor guests, those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Austen Gray, Grand Duke Dmitri, Princess Anna Ilyinsky, Mr. and Mrs. George Atwell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, Mrs. R.

Amcotts Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. Alan L. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Prince and Princess Cito-Filomarino di Bitetto, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fell, Mrs. Fair Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winn, Mrs. Franklyn Hutton, Mrs. James P. Donahue, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. George F. Baker, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, the Duchess of Sutherland, Mrs. John B. Fell, Lady Abingdon, Prince George Scherbatoff, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. Michael Phipps, Mr. James A. Burden, Mr. Milton Holden, Mr. Richard B. W. Hall, Mr. Sydney Smith, Lord Adare, Mr. Frank Rediker, Mr. Howard G. Cushing, Mr. Douglas G. Paige, Mr. Allan G. Wellman, Major Cecil Pryce Harrison, Mr. Herbert Scheftal and Mr. Peter A. B. Widener.

Mr. James H. R. Cromwell was host to the Earl of Athlone and Governor Clifford at an informal party given at Malmaison, his home on the estate of his mother, Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, on Tuesday afternoon. Delightful, though impromptu, entertainment contributed to the success of the party of which Mr. Con Conrad, well known composer, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Vincent Youmans played a group of his compositions ranging from his old success "Tea for Two" to the currently popular "Carioka." Roszika Dolly, of the internationally known Dolly Sisters, danced the rumba and later did an adagio dance with Mr. Hamilton Fisher, the cartoonist.

Mr. Ben Oakland and Mr. Milton Drake sang and played some of their current successes. The Earl evinced an interest in jazz, so Mr. Conrad demonstrated how songs are "stolen," closing with his own composition, "Memory Lane," and the brand new "I Like It That Way." All the composers autographed their own songs and presented them to the Earl. Miss Cleantha Carr, gifted young artist, made a sketch of the Earl which she will send him when completed.

Those enjoying the affair, in addition to the Earl and Governor Clifford, were the aides, Capt. Charles Houston-Boswell, Capt. R. Minto Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Con Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Netcher, Mrs. Ellery Hannigan, Mrs.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, of Washington, D. C., is another prominent visitor in the resort, where she is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barklie at the Surf Cottage in Breakers Row. Mr. and Mrs. Barklie gave a small dinner for her on Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent and Capt. and Mrs. Gibbons gave luncheons, and she shared honors with Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. ## TASTES AND TOILETTES

LOOK AROUND any smart gathering in the resort would lead one to think that Fashion has the "blues." The truth is that the blues have Fashion and a haze of the heavenly hue softens the color effect of any group of gaily clad women that you see in the resort like a blue wash blends a water color. The darker blues make their appearance mostly as contrast touches with white, white with navy, white with soldier's blue (a new color), white with sapphire, a tone just a little less vivid than the royal blue that everyone was mad about not so long ago; and white with marine blue, that gives a very nautical appearance.

The lighter blues mostly make their bow with other colors or alone. Sky blue with tangerine, making you think of citrus groves under the Florida sky; baby blue with infant pink, if you can stand this color combination without beginning to lisp and prattle; very pale blue that is almost white (especially good in satin for evening) with all the glitter you can find in your jewel box.

Among the nice new colors are rose de France, a new and pleasing red; Tokay yellow, a goldy color that is very attractive; eucalyptus, a new gray with a greenish cast, like the under surface of the fragrant leaves of eucalyptus trees.

* * *

Miss Antoinette Johnson looked stunning at the Colony Club recently wearing a cornflower blue crepe gown with a short train and a gorgeous ruby velvet wrap lavishly trimmed with blue fox, which bordered the dropped cape effect and the sleeves.

* * *

In the same party, Mrs. Florence Tilbrook of New York and The Breakers wore a striking gown of pale pink triple sheer crepe with two wide cerise bands widening at the back to form a short train. An interesting shoulder treatment of the same brilliant color was a noteworthy detail.

With this ensemble, Mrs. Van Riper wears a snug little cloche of dark green suede, fitted in the front by tiny plaits and adorned with four little white pompoms in symmetrical arrangement.

* * * *

OMMY GOODWIN, youthful Monroe, N. Y., shotmaker, added another tourney to his list of triumphs this season when he defeated Jack Butler, Palm Beach tournament golfer, 6 and 5, in the finals of the Everglades Club Invitational Tournament. Goodwin shot sub-par golf throughout the thirty-six-hole match, finishing the morning eighteen-hole round with a 33 and 36 for a 69, as compared with twin 37's for a 74 tallied by Butler, placing him 3 up when they went to luncheon.

On the first nine of the afternoon round he continued his sharp-shooting play to tack up a 34, one under par, and six strokes under Butler, who drew a 40, making it 7 up for Goodwin, rounding the turn. They halved the tenth and eleventh holes, but Butler took the twelfth with a par 3 when Goodwin's long putt rimmed the cup, forcing the match to the thirteenth green which they also halved with fours.

SPORT FISHING

RESORT ANGLERS who have ventured to the Gulf Stream during the past week have been rewarded with sizeable catches of various types of game fish, including the gamey sailfish, the amberjack, bonita, and kingfish. Miss Mary Pickford, noted screen star, who made a sojourn in Palm Beach recently at Whitehall, tried her hand at angling in the Gulf Stream in company with Miss E. J. Barrett and Miss Shirley Connelly of Chicago.

All three landed dolphin and Miss Pickford handled her rod with all the skill of a veteran. They were out with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser on the "Blackjack," from Poinciana basin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Oppenheim and friends who are staying at Whitehall, had an interesting day's fishing, landing six bluefish, two mackerel and a large snook weighing 17 1-2 pounds. They were out with Capt. Harry Hunt aboard the "Imp."

Mr. Stanley Clark, Mr. W. Harry Lister and Mr. Rudolph S. Boger of Rockville Center, L. I., also had a successful trip with Mr. Clark, landing a sailfish and a dolphin, Mr. Lister getting a large sailfish and two dolphins and Mr. Boger bringing one right up to the boat only to have the line part.

Mr. Niles Babbitt and Mr. William M. Francis, both well known resort anglers and members of the Sailfish Club of Florida, made a most successful catch landing eight large specimens of sail while fishing in the Gulf Stream. Most of the gamey fish measured approximately seven feet six inches and gave the veteran anglers a world of sport.

Mr. Paul Bonner and Mr. Everard Gates who are visiting here had a pleasant day's sport, Mr. Bonner landing one of the big sailfish measuring eight feet one inch in length and Mr. Gates bringing one to gaff measuring seven feet six inches. They also hooked several others but did not manage to bring them along side.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Blumenthal who are staying at Whitehall, also spent an interesting intergal in the fishing grounds north of the inlet, Mr. Blumenthal landing a nice specimen of sailfish weighing thirty-eight pounds, two amberjack, the largest weighing twenty-three pounds, which is being mounted by Fred C. N. Parke, well known taxidermist, and a large kingfish weighing twenty-two pounds.

Mr. Howard Brokaw of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Mrs. Frederick Hardman of New York City, had excellent luck fishing for sails, with Mr. Brokaw landing a large one and a hefty bonita while Mrs. Hardman joined the ranks of veteran feminine anglers when she brought in two large sailfish, a dolphin and a barracuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hutchison of Berkeley Square, London, who are making a sojourn in the resort, had splendid luck the other day with Mrs. Hutchison landing a beautiful sailfish measuring seven feet eight and one-half inches and weighing sixty-six pounds, and Mr. Hutchison bringing one to gaff that measured seven feet four inches and weighed forty-nine pounds. They were out with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser on board the "Blackjack," from Poinciana basin.

Another party consisting of Mrs. Peyton Van Rensselaer, Lord and Lady Ashburton of London, England, Mr. Julian James of New York and Mr. Edington Renn, North Carolina, had an interesting day's sport, Lord Ashburton landing a sailfish measuring seven feet eight and one-half inches and Mr. Renn bringing in a thirty-five-pound amberjack. They were out on the "Fun," with Capt. Kenneth Foster, from Poinciana basin.

A fishing party composed of Mr. Otto A. Carlson, Mr. W. C. Turner, Mr. George Weber and Mrs. Hanna Henderson of Philadelphia enjoyed a trip to the Gulf Stream.

Mr. Carlson caught a "sail" measuring six feet two inches. Mr. Turner landed one measuring seven feet ten inches and Mr. Weber another seven feet two inches.

A party made up of Mr. Harry Rosenfeld, well known resort fisherman and his guests, Mr. A. W. Zackendorf, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloch, had a most exciting time of it recently while fishing off Palm Beach.

All three anglers hooked a sailfish at the same time and for quite a while they had a busy time of it keeping their lines from tangling and finally bringing all three to gaff. Mrs. Bloch landed an unusually small sailfish measuring four feet ten inches and is having it mounted by Fred Parke. They were out with Capt. Walt Githens on the "Miss Sally," from the Poinciana basin.

ON SUNNY PALM BEACH SANDS

HAPPY COMBINATION of brilliant sunshine, a calm sapphire sea at exactly the right temperature for bathing, a wide stretch of warm sands to lounge upon, attract scores of winter visitors daily to the Poinciana-Breakers Beach. Handball, backgammon and other impromptu games create a lot of activity during the popular bathing hour and a little later finds the terrace thronged with luncheon groups gathering beneath the canopied sunshades. Gay informality always prevails at this famous casino where celebrities from every walk of life meet daily.

Miss Fannie Hurst, famous novelist, whose new book "Anitra's Dance" will be published this spring, was the cynosure of all eyes recently when she strolled along the boardwalk at the Poinciana-Breakers Beach with Miss Helen Worden, newspaper columnist. They stopped to chat with Mr. and Mrs. John Golden and Mr. Otto Kahn, of "Oheka" villa.

Mr. Jules Bache of La Colema, Mr. John F. Harris and Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury are among Palm Beach's distinguished winter residents who are noted at the beach several times each week.

The Sun and Surf Club was the setting for a luncheon party and dance at which Mrs. Biddle Duffield, of Philadelphia, who has a villa on Australian Avenue with Mrs. Martin Corbett, of New York, entertained sixty members of the cottage colony.

An enticing luncheon was set out on two long tables under the big orange canopy on the ocean terrace, and guests were served buffet style, eating al fresco in congenial groups at the smaller tables on the terrace.

Later coffee was served and dancing enjoyed in the club lounge.

The Silver Screen PRESENTS THIS MONTH

In silhouette James Cagney looks the perfect gentleman instead of the screen's toughest "tough guy." His next is "Always a Gent," which means what Jimmy is trying so hard to be.

Dick Barthelmess concentrates deeply in the Hollywood sunshine over his next role in "A Modern Hero," a talkie adaptation of Louis Bromfield's best-seller.

Ruth Chatterton has her prize Great Danes "on location" while filming scenes for "Journal of a Crime." No, not a body-guard, she just likes 'em around.

An all-star cocktail party is much in evidence in this thirst-making scene from First National's "Wonder Bar," and the nice-looking people who toast you are Ricardo Cortez, Dolores Del Rio, Al Jolson, Kay Francis and Dick Powell. Advance reports boldly state that "Wonder Bar" should not be missed by even a teetotaler.

NEWS OF THE SKYWAYS

FLORIDA may well be declared the land of magic, especially since the latest mode of travel, by air, has been virtually accepted by all seasoned voyageurs to the sunny South. Taking advantage of man-made wings, travelers may now span most any distance in an unbelievably short space of time, and that is where the magic comes in. Stirring tales of buccaneers may lure one to visit their once-native haunts, and with the urge strong upon him, the restless one need only step into a huge 40 passenger clipper ship and in less time than it takes to read the book, be transported safely and most comfortably to the very spot where Morgan and his men sacked a city, or where Columbus voyaged on his discovery of a new world.

If beauty is desired, the traveler need only charter a small plane and sail over the most charming panorama of tropic beauty imaginable, viewing the exotic resorts of Palm Beach and Miami from the air, which have combined the work of nature with the art of man, to make of it an unforgettable scene, the green-blue ocean, stretched to the eastward, like a huge lake, carrying on its bosom, a jaunty old tramp steamer or trim white yacht, and the sky and sea meeting at their mystical rendezvous, the horizon.

And if son John meets the only girl, and decides to get married the day after tomorrow in the little church around the corner, do not get perturbed. Sleep well, have your favorite breakfast, step on the New York plane and arrive in time to take the prospective newlyweds to dinner and get acquainted with the latest addition to the family group.

Without fanfare or royal robes, a present-day but real princess and her husband, younger brother of Queen Mary of England and the Governor of the Bahamas and his lady, arrived on United States soil by air recently.

Included in the party were Major General, the Earl of Athlone, and H. R. H. Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, with the Hon. Sir Bede E. H. Clifford, Governor General of the Bahamas, and Lady Clifford.

The royal visitors arrived through the international airport at Miami, known as the "aerial gateway between the Americas," following a short international flight from Nassau and Cat Cay via America's largest aircraft, the 40-passenger clipper ship of Pan American Airways System. The party was attended by the Governor's aides, Captain R. M. Wilson and Captain Charles Houston-Boswell.

They were greeted by Mr. Chauncey McCormick, of Chicago, who entertained them at Villa Viscaya, the famous James Deering estate. The following day they were guests of Mr. Joseph D. Widener at his beautiful Miami Jockey Club at Hialeah Park, where they witnessed the International Bahamas' handicap race for which His Excellency, the Governor General of the Bahamas, presented a silver trophy. Following the races, the party motored from Miami to Palm Beach, where they were the guests of Mr. Joseph D. Widener at his estate.

Regarding the trip over by air, His Excellency the Governor, said: "It is extremely pleasant to be in Miami for the races and the Bahamas handicap for which I am presenting the cup. We enjoyed a very pleasant trip from Cat Cay and the Earl and Princess particularly expressed their delight in the comfort and ease of the flight in the great American plane. It is always a pleasure to foster any closer relations between Nassau and Miami, and I take pride in my part in the establishment of regular air service which has done so much for the sister cities. Following this service I am particularly interested in the projected air service between New York and Bermuda with Pan American Airways and Imperial Airways cooperating, and perhaps later even trans-Atlantic service."

Palm Beach has had a number of arrivals from the sky recently at the new Waco-Belevedere airport. Among these were, Miss Suzanne Humphreys, youthful aviatrix who flew down from New York; Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., piloted by William Cleveland; Mrs. S. H. Halle, and daughter, of Cleveland, in their Stinson, piloted by T. L. Lewis, and Mr. H. L. Shonnard, Jr., who dropped in from Miami in his new Fairchild.

Mr. George Atwell, Jr., flew over to Gasparilla Island recently with Mr. E. S. Maloney as pilot in a Waco plane from the Belvedere Airport, to bring back Mr. Sidney Smith to visit the Atwells at their villa. Mr. Atwell was due at Phipps Field to play in a polo match, so he continued his flight to Gulfstream, where Mr. Maloney landed the Waco on the polo field, the first time a plane has been landed there. Recently Mr. Atwell left in his own Stinson plane for New York, where he will spend a few days before flying back.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kholberg of New York arrived recently at Belevedere Airport in their own Stinson plane and will spend a few days at the resort. Mr. L. E. Gray of Atlanta, Ga., arrived in a Fledgling plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brooks and Mr. George Hard, all well known in the resort, recently planned a unique air trip, which has made them the envy of all their friends.

Several new students are taking instruction at the field including Miss Muriel Richards, Mr. F. B. Lindley, Mr. C. F. Bagley, Mr. Raymond Latham of Sea Breeze Avenue and Mr. Jimmie Morrison of Palm Beach.

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR GAME

By JOHN R. TUNIS

( This is the second of a series of articles on tennis \ written by Mr. John R. Tunis, noted tennis authority.

MORE MISTAKES in stroke production arise from leaning away from the ball than from almost any other reason. The average player has to run for the ball, often he has to run backward. When he hits it leaning away from it, he is apt to sky it, to push his shot up with a lifting motion which sends it far out of court. Haven's you noticed yourself doing this?

Try leaning toward the ball. Not merely when actually making a stroke, but all through the rallies. Keep slightly leaning toward the point where the ball is to fall, even when you are running. This will improve your driving. The weight of your body will be on the ball when you hit it, adding power and speed to your shot. Lean toward the ball.

Leaning away from the ball is one of the great mistakes of the beginner at tennis. Let me give you another good tip. Paste this in your hat. Never stand still except when making a shot.

Haven't you seen dub players flat on their heels until the ball comes, at which instant they start dancing around excitedly like wild men? No wonder the shot goes into the backstop.

So keep moving. Keep on your toes, of course. Be ready to dart, to jump, to start in any direction. If you do, few shots will catch you unawares. If you stand on your heels, most of them will. You can't stand on your heels when you are moving. Too many beginners make a practice of always standing still except when they make a shot. The one moment when they should be motionless.

What is the hardest shot in tennis? The volley, I suppose, or the smash, is hardest to make. Why? Because in volleying one has less time to get set for the ball, less time to get one's bat on it. The ball comes at you faster than does a drive which bounces and gives additional seconds for you to take position.

Yet one of the greatest faults of the average player is that he will insist on trying the hard shots before the easy ones. Common sense suggests that if you desire to progress at tennis, you should learn first the strokes that are easiest. What are they? The drive, and the serve.

Now the service is not only one of the easiest shots in the game to make, but it is one of the few you can practice alone. Moreover you may serve anywhere within the limits of the court, you don't have to hit a fast moving ball, you can take your time and as much as you like. Yet most beginners just walk up and whack the ball anyhow. Then if their first is a falt, they whack the second without pause. Let me give you one or two suggestions that will materially help your service.

Stand firmly, rigidly almost, the body erect, left shoulder pointed toward the net and left foot just behind the line. No foot faults. Hold the ball with the tips of your left fingers, when the wrist reaches the level of your mouth. Flick the ball up gently.

This is most important. Don't jerk it, as a sudden jerk will cause you to lose balance and throw your shot off. Take care to poise your body and make the toss slowly deliberately. Here is a suggestion made to me by George Agutter, the able professional of the West Side Tennis Club, which improved my service. Start slowly, begin the swing gently but come fast just before you hit the ball. Your service will be vastly better if you try these in action.

There are four ways of learning to play tennis: watching great players, taking lessons from a professional, getting help from an older player, and reading books on the game.

The first way is the simplest. Above all for children because children are imitative; as they watch top class players they will unconsciously imitate the correct style. Even for older persons and players who have been at the game some time, there is nothing like watching first class tennis to help you correct your faults and improve your weak points. To see Tilden in action is an inspiration.

For those who live in parts of the United States where cracks seldom play and big tournaments are rarely held, the problem is difficult. But it is worth noting that the tour of Tilden and his professionals across the country this winter has taken them into twenty-five different cities in twenty different states, beside Canada. He will make another tour next summer so that there will be few places in 1934 where good tennis cannot be seen.

In watching tournament tennis, always sit as close to the court as possible and behind it rather than to one side. Watch carefully the way each player hits the ball. Notice his footwork, his balance and the follow through of his stroke. Observe especially how long he waits in the exchange before committing himself, how he refuses to rush headlong at the ball. You will get a tremendous amount from watching carefully the good professional and amateur players in action.

But best of all you will get inspiration. An enthusiasm and a desire to get out and perfect that backhand drive of your own. Go to it.

The second way of learning to play tennis is by taking lessons from a good professional coach. Unfortunately that is not easy in the United States where there are, proportionately to the numbers who play the game, fewer first class instructors than in Europe.

If you can secure professional help, fine. But be sure of your professional. Not everyone who teaches is competent and not every first class player turned professional is a teacher by any means. They say a millionaire in New York asked Bill Tilden to give him ten lessons at a hundred dollars apiece. Whether the man got his money's worth I don't know. Certainly to date Bill has not succeeded in imparting any of his skill to numerous youngsters in tournament play.

Pick your professional with care. Be sure he knows his stuff. Not every player with a great reputation can teach. Nor should I go to one of those men who guarantee to turn out a champion in ten lessons. There are, however, first class instructors in most of the big tennis club, two of the best are George Agutter of West Side at Forest Hills, L. I., and Bill Croker of Chicago.

Once having determined to take lessons, don't expect the teacher to make you a player on his own. Learning tennis like anything else is hard work and takes effort on the part of the learner. If you choose to stand off and say, "I am paying you to teach me tennis; teach me if you can!" I'm afraid you won't get far. Your side of the bargain isn't finished when you pay your money and plank yourself across the net.

MIAMI BEACH

BREEZING in with a calendar laden with sports and social events that gives it mid-season aspects, March is making February look to its laurels for first honors in the season's resort picture. After a colorful week of activities occasioned by the second annual Miami Biltmore National Horse Show, the fashionable winter colony is again focusing attention on sports, as it looks forward to the Miami Biltmore Country Club Invitation Four-Ball Golf Tournament, March 1-4. The tourney, forecast as one of the most important events on the Biltmore fairways this season, will assemble many of the nation's best known amateur linksmen. Among them will be Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., holder of several Florida championships; Howard Tryon, Elmira, N. Y.; H. F. Bowbeer, the Chicago ace; Celeste Durand, New York, and Curtis Bryan, Jacksonville, winner of the last two amateur events at the Biltmore.

The junior contingent will challenge the seniors for the sports spotlight during the current week with the Palm Beach-Miami Biltmore Juvenile Boxing Bouts, March 3. The Palm Beach team will be composed of young sons of Palm Beach winter colony members who will pit their prowess against a picked team of youngsters whose parents are members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs. The matches will be staged in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza hotel, and winners of the bouts will be awarded silver trophies.

Inauguration last week of a series of Sunday night concerts in the lounge of the Miami Biltmore hotel by the 75-piece Symphony Orchestra occasioned widespread interest among music lovers in the greater Miami area. The orchestra, under direction of Dr. C. Carter Nice, is composed of musicians who have played with the leading symphony orchestras of the country. Dr. Nice formerly was associated with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company and the San Carlos Opera Company.

One of the most representative gatherings of the winter attended the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund ball at the Miami Biltmore Country Club last Thursday night. Among distinguished guests were Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, known to official Washington as "Dolly Gann," a sister of former Vice President Curtis, and Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, wife of the former United States minister to Portugal and to Belgium. Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Townsend are guests of Mrs. Henry L. Doherty, honorary chairman of the ball, at her Giralda Towers apartments in the Miami Biltmore hotel.

Among social leaders who served as patronesses of the ball were Mrs. Charles Deering, Evanston, Ill., and Coconut Grove; Mrs. Baldwin Day Spilman, of Warrenton, Va., and Miami Beach; Mrs. James M. Cox, of Dayton, O., and Miami Beach; Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, of Chicago and Coconut Grove; Mrs. William J. Matheson, of Easton, Md., and Coconut Grove, and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Tobin, of Grosse Point, Mich., and Miami.

Climaxing a series of gala social festivities in honor of exhibitors at the Horse Show was a colorful Boots and Saddles Ball at the Miami Biltmore hotel Saturday night. A gathering of more than 600 who filled every table in the terrace room as well as the long Spanish dining room danced to the music of two orchestras, Larry Siry and his Miami Biltmore aggregation, and Ramon Ramos and his tango ensemble and witnessed the spectacular new review, which is headed by Ray Bolger, dancing comedian of the Earl Carroll Vanities.

Composing the Horse Show committee, many of whom entertained for the ball, were a group of nationally known sportsmen, among them being Joseph E. Widener and Barclay H. Warburton, of the Palm Beach colony; Harvey S. Firestone, Dr. Joseph H. Adams, Clayton Sedgewick Cooper, DeWitt Page, Fred A. Poor, Robert W. Gifford, S. S. Kresge and James H. Bright, of the Miami Beach winter colony, and Frank Adair, of Atlanta.

I., and Washington, D. Visiting artists are exhibiting in the sixth annual salon and sculpture show, which opened Thursday under the auspices of the Miami Woman's Club for a week.

The formal opening was marked by a luncheon and reception at noon, and an address on "International Art Appreciation" by Senor Molina, former Spanish Consul. Mrs. Myrtle Taylor Bradford, chairman of the fine arts department of the club, talked on art displayed at the Century of Progress Exposition and introduced Messrs. Denman Fink and Chester Tingle, who also spoke.

To introduce her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Harry Collins, Jr., Mrs. James Harry Collins gave a tea Thursday evening at the Collins residence in South Bay Shore Drive. Receiving with Mrs. Collins and the honor guest were Mrs. J. Mitchell Taylor and Miss Hazel Stamps.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. C. Hunt, of New York, were socially prominent additions to the Roney Plaza contingent during the week. Jeremiah D. Maguire, president of the Federation Bank and Trust Company of New York, was another interesting arrival at the hotel. Irene Bordoni, of stage and screen fame, joined the colony of stars at the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club, and Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Reynolds, of Winston Salem, N. Sewell, of Miami, and Mrs. Sewell, in addition to members of the McCormick family, were guests at the garden tea immediately following the arrival of the British visitors at Vizcaya, which is reopened after many years to welcome royalties. Members of the family present at the dinner, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, were Mrs. Charles Deering, mother of Mrs. McCormick; Mrs. Richard E. Danielson, Mrs. McCormick's sister; Mr. Richard F. Howe, of New York, whose late wife was a sister of Mr. James Deering and Mrs. Elsie Moore Torlonia, of New York, a guest of Mr. Howe. Vanderbilt aboard the Vanderbilt yacht, Alva, at its Fisher Island anchorage, in Biscayne Bay. The party was joined there by Mr. Widener, who escorted his guests to Hialeah Park, where he gave a luncheon in their honor before the running of the handicap. Governor Clifford presented to the owner of the winner a silver trophy made in London. The Earl and Countess of Athlone accompanied Mr. Widener back to Palm Beach, where they are his guests at Il Palmetto.

UNDER THE STARS

TWINKLING STARS and twinkling feet—and the night life of Palm Beach is at its height. This week there will be an added incentive for dining and dancing under the stars, for Lady Moon herself will be on hand to make the evenings even more glamorous. Never before in the history of Palm Beach have the dancing clubs gone so far to provide a varied program of entertainment for colonists. Over the course of a week many special nights are held, in which unusual decorations prevail, or other attractions are offered for the divertimento of winter visitors.

And the "days" of the clubs are long ones. The Colony Club's begins at noon, when the Cafe de la Paix opens. Swinging then into the tea dances at 5 o'clock, with the unusual attraction of roller-hockey played by prominent visitors—men and women. Among the players who may be seen in action almost any day are Mr. Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Gilbert Kahn, Mr. Harvey A. Turnure, Mr. E. J. Adler, Mr. Elliot Sperber, Mr. Walter Carey and Mr. Robert Rasmussen.

Tea is hardly out of the way when the Cafe de la Paix becomes an animated picture with a score or more aperatif parties in progress. Then comes the dinner function, the line of demarcation between this event and the supper hour being so thin that it is hard to tell where the one begins and the other ends.

At The Patio the day gets under way at the luncheon hour, usually a long session, especially when the day is fine and visitors linger on the beaches until literally driven to the luncheon table by the pangs of hunger. Last-comers have barely made their departure before the tea crowd commences wandering in. From 7 o'clock on the Trophy Room is the mecca for those on aperatifs bent. And so to dinner, and then to supper, and the last thing one thinks of saying is "And so to bed."

Following a party given recently by Mr. James H. R. Cromwell at Malmaison, many of the guests dropped in at the Cafe de la Paix at the Colony Club for late supper—or maybe it would be more accurately termed breakfast. Among them were Mrs. Ramon Cantarrana, Miss Betty Gillette, Miss Lillian Kenton, Mr. Vincent Youmans, Mr. Edward J. Reeves and Mr. Woolworth Donahue.

On this same evening there were noted at other tiny tables in the Cafe de la Paix, Col. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll B. Alker and Mr. and Mrs. Martinez de las Rivas.

Noted at some of the more formal functions were Mrs. L. G. Kaufman, Mrs. James H. Snowden, Mr. Alexander Dallas Bache Pratt, Mrs. Kenneth Van Riper, Mrs. Hanna Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Plaut, Miss Elise Plankinton, Mr. William Woods Plankinton, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Copley Thaw, Prince Georges Scherbatoff, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Turnure, Miss Hazel Nichols, Mr. Thomas W. Potter, Mrs. Shevlin Smith, Mr. William Cushing, Mr. Richard B. W. Hall, Mr. John Follmer, Mr. Melville Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Vadim Makaroff.

Others noted recently include Mrs. Julian M. Gerard, Mrs. William Thaw III, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fell, Mrs. Paul Abbott, Mr. Roberet E. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin, Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden,

Mr. John P. Wemple, Miss Dorothy Fell, Mr. Sydney A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, Mr. A. Atwater Kent, Jr., Miss Virginia Kent, Mr. Otto H. Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kahn and Miss Muriel Richards.

A night or so ago Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller Gould gave a dinner at The Patio for Col. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Copley Thaw, Mr. and Mrs. Orson D. Munn and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll B. Alker.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Balsan—she is the former Duchess of Marlborough, nee Consuelo Vanderbilt—occupied a south terrace table with several friends. Mr. Laughlin Alexander entertained for Miss Althea Robinson, Miss Nancy Doyle and Mr. Edmund Wardrop. Mr. Walter L. Carey was host to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fell and Miss Dorothy Fell.

Mr. George Vanderbilt was host at a small dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Sailing Baruch gave a dinner for twelve, and their son, Sailing Baruch, Jr., entertained the same evening for eight. The following day Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, Jr., gave a small luncheon.

Mrs. T. R. Simmons and Mrs. T. E. Vineyard who are guests at the New Palm Beach Hotel entertained in the Patio the other night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. McIntosh who are occupying a cottage on North Ocean Boulevard. Their guests included Miss Mary Alice McIntosh, Miss Dorothy McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hardman, Miss Helen Hardman, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Woodyard, and Mr. Russell Paine.

Dancing under the stars is proving very popular at the New Palm Beach Hotel. Mrs Emma Merrill Miller gave a dinner the other night for Miss Elizabeth Robertson, Mr. Paul Kestler and Mr. Howard Merrill.

PRINCE MATCHABELLI

Tanabano SUN OIL

Do what the sun bathers on the Riviera did last Winter—cover your skin with fine oil, and escape the lobster stage. You'll find Tanabano especially good. It's made of pure, smooth oils specially blended by Prince Matchabelli to keep your skin from drying or burning. It's scented with the Matchabelli Abano odeur, so you'll feel nice and fragrant while you're getting your smooth, even tan.

Mr. FOSTER'S Remembrance Shop
112 No. Palm Beach Ave.

We have the gifts you are hunting for—that special kind of remembrance that doesn't cost much, perhaps, but which is unique, original, with the mark of the native craftsman on it. Or is it something smart and finished that you seek? Something with the unmistakable fingerprint of Paris in its make-up? We have that, too. Our collection contains the art creations of two civilizations—everything "different" and moderately priced.

     Quite so pretty.
 To LIVINGSTON'S SHOP
     In the Beaux Arts you go.
 You must drop in
     And see what they show."
 Said Betty to Mary,
     "Thank you my dear,
 I bought all my things
     Before I got here.
 Their shop in New York
     Is my source of supply
 And all of my clothes
     At LIVINGSTON'S I buy."

Fly to PANAMA

Crossroads of the World

in 2 Days

WHILE you're south, see Panama, too. It's no trip at all via huge Pan American liners of the sky. The Panama Canal, engineering wonder of the world . . . the matted tropical jungle, filled with gay-plumaged birds and strange animals . . . Indians who live under savagely primitive conditions . . . colorful native towns . . . quaint shops run by merchants of a dozen different nationalities.

AN overnight stop in Jamaica, too, on this trip, giving you an opportunity to visit this Isle of June en route, with its massive blue mountains, waterfalls, and gorgeous tropical foliage.

THE same swift, luxurious comfort, to any of 21 countries within 2 days—to even the most distant capitals of South America in only 7 days.

BUICK

—with Knee-Action Wheels

*This new era of gracious living
suggests a gracious car*

Men and women are living splendidly once more . . . seeking the tasteful and the beautiful in all things . . . and, naturally, this new era of gracious living suggests the ownership of a gracious motor car. We give you Buick for 1934 as the car which mirrors this new mode of life. It is beautiful, with the tasteful beauty you expect of Buick. Its new Bodies by Fisher are spacious . . . luxuriously appointed . . . and comfortable in the extreme. To ride in it is to know relaxed ease such as you have never known before . . . because Buick alone combines Knee-Action Wheels, Balanced Weight and Springing, The Ride Stabilizer and Air Cushion Tires—the four factors which produce the gliding ride as Buick gives it. It is attuned to this new day also in convenience of control—in smooth performance—and in the safety of its Vacuum-Power Brakes. May we suggest that you ride in the 1934 Buick at your earliest convenience—and prove to yourself that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.
